Pair Caught After Snatching $450 From Home

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

An unidentified man who took more than $450 from a purse in the home of Mrs. Hazel Kubat at 6843 Adams about 6:30 p.m. Thursday was captured within a struggle in a nearby vacant lot 40 minutes later.

The man about 23, refused to give his name at police headquarters where he was being held on an open charge. His companion abandoned the car used in the robbery and was not nabbed until three hours later.

The object of a full-scale dragnet by lawmen, the accomplice was captured by Detectives Al Delaney and Frank Bowman. He was found in a field between 14th and 15th about a block from Cornhusker Highway.

Neighbors who witnessed the crime gave this account of the robbery:

Mrs. Kubat, 58, her son, Robert Church, and his wife were raking leaves behind Mrs. Kubat's home. A 1955 sedan with California plates, pulled up in front of the house, a man jumped out, ran to the house and entered by the unlocked side door.

He was in the house less than two minutes, when still unseen by the trio raking leaves, he ran out the front door.

The robber, police said, apparently went directly to the right room, ignored a second purse nearby, and took the money from Mrs. Kubat's billfold in her purse.

Mrs. Kubat, who had not seen the suspect after his capture, said the description did not fit anyone she knew.

As the man emerged from the house, Mrs. Kubat's daughter, Mrs. Jack Portschke of 6929 Adams, saw the man from her home across the street and shouted at him to stop.

The man kept going and disappeared on foot going north on Shirley Court, which intersects Adams about a half block west of the robbery scene. The sedan was nowhere in sight.

Police arrived on the scene almost immediately, and together with more than 35 residents of the area, began to search a weed-covered lot just north of 70th and Adams where someone had seen a man hiding.

Policeman Bruce Nelson found the man lying in the lot. He offered no resistance and was un-armed.

He carried no identification. More than $400 in bills was found on him, Police Capt. Paul Beave reported.

Beave paid tribute to the citizens who aided in the search, saying they did a top-notch job in aiding Det. George Hansen, Cruiser Officers Lowell Sellmeyer, George Finley, Nelson and him in the search.

Beave said the sedan used in the robbery was driven into a driveway at the Paul Bauer home, 3032 No. 61st, and abandoned by an unidentified man shortly after the robbery.

Jack Portschke said the robber "couldn't have been in there over two minutes". Portschke jumped into his car at his home, three houses east on Adams, and chased the California auto.

Robert Church also drove after the car and the two cornered it at the intersection of 64th and Adams.

Portschke asked the man "where the other guy was," and the man answered he didn't know. The man then swung his vehicle out around the Portschke car and roared away.

Both Church and Portschke followed the car but lost it.

A search then began for the driver, described by witnesses as about 30 years old, 5-foot-10, slender, black hair, and wearing a white shirt and dark trousers.

Police received a report that an unidentified man asked a service station attendant at 27th and Cornhusker Highway where the bus depot was. He said he wanted to get out of town.

And a later report indicated that a man at the bus depot had asked about a ticket to Los Angeles, but had never bought one. The man reportedly had grass stains on his shirt and a cut over one eye.

The search ended, however, when the man was caught in the field.

A neighbor of Mrs. Kubat, Frank Vavricka of 6920 Adams, reported he saw a man answering the description of the one apprehended with the money loitering near the home earlier in the day.

Mrs. Kubat said she had been cashing her paychecks and keeping the money at home. She said she had planned to deposit the money in a bank Saturday.

Mrs. Kubat is manager of the Pershing grade school cafeteria.

Nixon Leads GOP

Stevenson Opens Race Via TV, Radio Talk

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson contended Thursday night that Vice President Nixon is the new leader of the Republican party with President Eisenhower operating a "part-time presidency" and no longer "master in his own house."

The Democratic presidential nominee made his first in oblique, reference to the health issue before a cheering party rally of several thousand Pennsylvania Democrats in the State Farm Show arena here.

"These are stern facts," he said of what he called the circumstances which have created a "part-time presidency." He said that "to ignore them is perilous."

The Democratic nominee, making his first nationwide TV-radio speech on all major networks of the campaign, was interrupted repeatedly by applause, and once when he referred to Nixon as the man on whom the Republicans have to look for the future leadership, the crowd booed at the mention of the vice president's name.

Empty Seats

There were several hundred empty seats as the candidate spoke in the heat of the non-air conditioned hall. The top estimate of the attendance was that made by Capt. John D. Kime of the Pennsylvania state police of 9,500 persons.

Stevenson declared in his sharp criticism yet of his Republican rival:

"Every one shares in sympathy for the circumstances which have created a part-time presidency. But we cannot understand—and we will not accept—turning the government over to men who work full-time for the wrong people or a limited group of people."

"And the plain truth is that this situation would get worse, not better, in a continuation of this administration, because what influence the President has with his party in Congress has depended on his running again."

Downwind

"From here on the future of Republican leaders will depend not on Eisenhower but the Republican heir-apparent, Mr. Nixon. And the Vice President seems to sail downwind no matter which way the wind blows."

"These are stern facts. To ignore them is perilous. They are the reasons America's human needs go today unmet. Nor will they be met so long as the President is not master in his own house."

Stevenson's campaign manager, James A. Finnegan, said 8,500 tickets were sold for the cafeteria-style buffet supper which preceded Stevenson's first major all-networks TV-radio address of the campaign, costing upwards of $200,000.

Invited Guests

Stevenson's advance text, made available a little more than three hours before his scheduled talk, estimated his direct audience at 10,000 Pennsylvanians "with the whole nation as our invited guests."

He referred to the fact that "another political campaign was opened yesterday just 40 miles from here, before what the paper called 'a crowd of more than 500 of the Grand Old Party elite.'"

Stevenson said the dictionary defines elite as a group or body "considered or treated as socially superior."

More Than 1,300 Sign In Wheat Land Soil Bank

By RICHARD FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

More than 1,300 Nebraska farmers have so far placed more than 32,000 acres of wheat land in the acreage reserve of the soil bank for the 1957 soon-to-be-planted wheat crop, according to word released Thursday by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

Farmers have until Oct. 5 to sign up their wheat acres, an extension from the original date of Sept. 21. According to officials from the ASC there is little expectation that any further extension would be available, since nearly all of Nebraska's winter wheat will have been planted by the October date.

Farmers placing land in the soil bank for next year's crop, on an early state average, can expect to get $24.14 for each acre of wheat land. This land may not be harvested, though it may be planted with a cover crop, so long as the cover crop is removed late in spring before harvesting, ASC spokesmen said.

72 Counties

The early report released by the State ASC office covers some 72 counties in Nebraska. In these counties, 1,344 agreements have been signed, thus placing 32,392 acres in the approved category of 1957 acreage reserve agreements.

The total wheat allotment of the farms which have so far entered the acreage reserve—which allotment is binding with a penalty payment for non-observance—numbers 47,773 acres. Maximum total compensation for these agreements will be $78,968.11, the report said.

These agreements already completed are binding both upon the individual farmer and the government, ASC officials said. Failure to follow the contract once it is signed by the farmer will bring court action.

Some On 'Stand By'

In addition to those acres entered directly in the wheat acreage reserve, some farmers placed wheat land on a type of stand-by reserve, pending the availability of funds.

ASC officials explained this meant that an individual farmer could place wheat land up to 50 acres or 50 per cent of his crop, whichever was smaller, in the acreage reserve. After this, if money was still available, the remaining farmers desiring to place land

Commons Told Israel Faces Possible Attack

U.S. Won't Risk War Over Suez

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Thursday the United States will push ahead with plans for a Suez Canal shipper's association despite Egypt's warning the implementation of the plan "means war."

At the same time Dulles stated this government does not intend to "shoot its way through" the canal if Egypt blocks the way.

Rather than risk war in the Middle East, he said, the United States is ready to send its shipping around the base of Africa, avoiding the waterway seized by Egypt July 26 in a nationalization move.

American loans to European countries would be considered, he announced, to help them buy Western Hemisphere oil if Middle East shipments are disrupted.

Speaks Firmly

Dulles spoke out firmly at a jam-packed news conference a few minutes after receiving an urgent message from the Egyptian government bitterly assailing the new plan, which is sponsored by the Western Big Three.

The message was delivered by Ambassador Ahmed Hussein. An Egyptian Embassy statement said Dulles was told, "The scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose on Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression of Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war."

Eden is the British prime minister. The embassy said Hussein also informed Dulles:

"If the United States desires war, then she may support the scheme, but if her desire is to work for a peaceful solution, the scheme has to be abandoned."

Angry Reaction

In the face of this warning, Dulles told his news conference that Egypt's angry reaction "does not deter us from proceeding with this program."

The plan was unveiled by Eden only Wednesday. Press officer Lincoln White said Dulles "fully covered" the American attitude in his five-minute meeting with Hussein earlier.

The plan which Egypt opposes so strongly would line up the United States, Britain and France in a Suez Canal users' association. This association would seek to send ships, guided by non-Egyptian pilots, through the canal. Other countries using the canal have been asked to join the enterprise.

Dulles is understood to have offered it as a stop-gap move until diplomacy settles the bitter dispute with Egypt over who is to operate the strategic waterway.

Appealing for Egyptian reconsideration, Dulles told reporters he believes the plan was "not sufficiently understood" by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

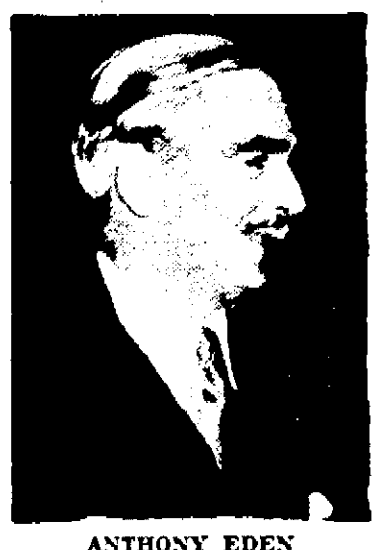

Adlai Boo-Boos

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, a language perfectionist, mispronounced the word "elite" twice Thursday night during his nationally televised address. He rhymed the word with delight.

Webster's New International Dictionary, from which Stevenson drew a definition of the word, carries a pronunciation roughly rhyming it with hey Pete.

Egypt Warns Of War

... Canal Plan Hit

CAIRO (AP) — High Egyptian sources said Thursday night the government is convinced the projected international Suez Canal users' association is aimed to provoke war.

The government told the United States Thursday in an urgent note that imposing the plan on Egypt means war.

Soon afterward, Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference in Washington the United States has no intention of "shooting its way through the canal" and would send ships around Africa, if necessary, to avoid hostilities.

But one source close to President Gamal Abdel Nasser said nothing in Dulles' remarks had altered Nasser's opposition to the users' association plan.

'Very Vague'

This source said there was nothing in Dulles' remarks. Another called Dulles' statements "very vague indeed."

However, Nasser late Thursday night was going over the users' association plan again with his chief advisers—Ali Sabry and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi—seemingly heeding Dulles' urging that the plan be reconsidered in Cairo.

Another Egyptian communication went to the United Nations Thursday. It said Britain and France must be held responsible for any breakdown in canal operations arising from a walkout of foreign pilots and technicians.

More than 400 foreign pilots and other canal employees in Egypt have given notice to the Egyptian canal authority they will quit at midnight Friday.

Plan Denounced

The note to Washington was delivered to Dulles by Ambassador Ahmed Hussein. It denounced the plan for an international association to take over ship operations in the canal.

An Egyptian embassy statement credited the plan to Prime Minister Eden, although it originated and was approved in the United States with some French and British amendments.

The scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose upon Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression on Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war," the statement said.

Navy Ends Search

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Thursday called off the 7th Fleet's search for possible survivors of the patrol plane shot down by the Chinese Communists off the China coast three weeks ago.

A Navy announcement indicated no hope for finding survivors among the plane's 16 American crewmen. Four bodies have been recovered.

Britain May Go To Defense With Arms

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden predicted Thursday night Egypt's President Nasser will attack Israel next if he gets away with seizure of the Suez Canal. Eden hinted Britain would go to Israel's rescue with arms if necessary.

Eden told the House of Commons there was no doubt that an attack on Israel would be the next step for a triumphant Nasser.

The House gave Eden a 319-248 vote of confidence on his Suez policies after he refused to promise not to use force if necessary in the crisis and said he would resort to the U.N. if Egypt violated treaty rights.

Censure Refused

Before the final vote of confidence his supporters batted down a Labor motion of censure 321-251.

In the closing minutes of the debate Eden asked:

"What will be the next step if Col. Nasser is allowed to succeed in the action he has taken?"

He added: "I have no doubt what will be the next step if the House has—Israel. Nasser called it 'the stooge of imperialism' in the very speech in which he nationalized the canal."

The voting came hours after Egypt told the Western powers their plan to take over control of Suez traffic, if carried through—will flash off a new war.

The tense House brushed aside the Egyptian contention that setting up a canal users' association to run ships through it "means war."

Stiffens Stand

The note stiffened the prime minister's campaign to keep the canal out of Nasser's sole control despite Laborite cries of "gunboat diplomacy."

There were similar votes of confidence in the House of Lords.

Eden mentioned the possibility of asking U.N. action after Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell demanded to know whether the British government intended to shoot its way through the canal.

The prime minister said if Egypt barred the canal to a ship from the proposed users' association, the Western powers would demand security council action.

1888 Agreement

Barring a ship would violate the Suez Convention of 1888 on free access to the canal, Eden said.

The plans announced for the users' association Wednesday hinted the first test of President Nasser's intentions might be to try sending a ship with a fully qualified pilot through the canal.

Fifteen other countries have been invited to join the group. With the Western Big Three, they represent 90 per cent of the canal shipping traffic.

The Eden victory pointed up the Suez crisis hour of Friday midnight. Nearly 100 pilots and about 300 other non-Egyptian technicians along the 103-mile-waterway made ready to walk off the job at that time.

Eden partly answered the "what next?" question in his speculation on the danger of an attack on Israel.

Cops Seek 'Kidnaped' Babysitter

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (INS) — Police issued an all-points bulletin Thursday asking authorities to be alert for signs of a wealthy woman believed kidnaped from a swanky neighborhood in San Diego after struggling with an assailant.

Police said the woman, Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Latham, wife of an investment broker, has been missing since 2 p.m. Wednesday from the home of her daughter.

Mrs. Latham was babysitting with her four-month-old grandson at the daughter's home, police said.

There were signs in the home that Mrs. Latham had put up a furious fight against someone who apparently attacked her and forced her from the house.

Officers also said that a number of signed, blank checks were missing from the home.

FARM SURPLUS PEAK IN SIGHT

WASHINGTON (INS) — Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said that the peak in the nation's huge stockpile of agricultural commodities "may be reached before there is another harvest."

Morse told a national sales executives board of directors luncheon that the surplus problem is being brought under control and that the following gains will lead to increased profits for farmers:

1. Exports were boosted 11 per cent last year and are now about one-fourth above the 1952-53 level.
2. More cotton will be sold than is being produced this year.
3. For wheat, the other major surplus problem, production will just about equal sales and use. There may be a modest decline in the carryover.
4. Feed grain production is forecast at 4 per cent below last year so there may be reduced carryover of some stocks.

NEBRASKA: Partly cloudy Friday and Saturday. Few light showers northwest Friday evening moving across north and central to eastern border by Saturday morning. Cooler east, south. High 75 northeast, 85 southwest.

More Than 1,300 Sign In Wheat Land Soil Bank

By RICHARD FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

More than 1,300 Nebraska farmers have so far placed more than 32,000 acres of wheat land in the acreage reserve of the soil bank for the 1957 soon-to-be-planted wheat crop, according to word released Thursday by the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

Farmers have until Oct. 5 to sign up their wheat acres, an extension from the original date of Sept. 21. According to officials from the ASC there is little expectation that any further extension would be available, since nearly all of Nebraska's winter wheat will have been planted by the October date.

This land may not be harvested, though it may be planted with a cover crop, so long as the cover crop is removed late in spring before harvesting, ASC spokesmen said.

Some On 'Stand By'
In addition to those acres entered directly in the wheat acreage reserve, some farmers placed wheat land on a type of stand-by reserve, pending the availability of funds.

ASC officials explained this meant that an individual farmer could place wheat land up to 50 acres or 50 per cent of his crop, whichever was smaller, in the acreage reserve. After this, if money was still available, the remaining farmers desiring to place land in the wheat acreage reserve would be given the opportunity on a first come, first served basis.

According to early ASC figures for Nebraska requests from the original farmers entering the program would amount to a total payment of an additional $47,647.04, if the money is left. This part of the program will be administered after the Oct. 5 deadline.

The ASC said that soon after that date farmers would be notified of their position on the waiting list, if there is one, of those eligible to place extra wheat in the acreage reserve. Farmers will then have 10 days to reply and either honor the request, accept part of it or refuse it, an ASC spokesman said.

Judge Won't Cut Doctor's Tax Sentence

OMAHA (AP) — Federal Judge John W. Delehant of Lincoln refused Thursday to reduce the tax evasion sentence he meted out to Dr. Donald O. Craig, Winside, Neb. Judge Delehant in July sentenced Dr. Craig to four months in prison and fined him $2,000 after the doctor pleaded no contest to two charges of income tax evasion.

The government had charged evasion of taxes on about $21,000 from 1950-52.

Given 60 Days
Judge Delehant gave Dr. Craig 60 days to get his affairs in shape before starting to serve his sentence. In the meantime, a group of Winside area residents circulated petitions urging Judge Delehant to reconsider. They said the area was dependent on Dr. Craig for medical service.

Judge Delehant Thursday said he had been mindful in passing sentence of the Winside need for medical service and of Dr. Craig's devotion to his profession. But he said, the sentence is neither wrong nor harsh.

Commons Told Israel Faces Possible Attack

U.S. Won't Risk War Over Suez

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Thursday the United States will push ahead with plans for a Suez Canal shipper's association despite Egypt's warning the implementation of the plan "means war."

At the same time Dulles stated this government does not intend to "shoot its way through" the canal if Egypt blocks the way.

Rather than risk war in the Middle East, he said, the United States is ready to send its shipping around the base of Africa, avoiding the waterway seized by Egypt July 26 in a nationalization move.

American loans to European countries would be considered, he announced, to help them buy Western Hemisphere oil if Middle East shipments are disrupted.

Speaks Firmly
Dulles spoke out firmly at a jam-packed news conference a few minutes after receiving an urgent message from the Egyptian government bitterly assailing the new plan, which is sponsored by the Western Big Three.

The message was delivered by Ambassador Ahmed Hussein. An Egyptian Embassy statement said Dulles was told, "The scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose on Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression of Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war."

Eden is the British prime minister. The embassy said Hussein also informed Dulles:

"If the United States desires war, then she may support the scheme, but if her desire is to work for a peaceful solution, the scheme has to be abandoned."

Angry Reaction
In the face of this warning, Dulles told his news conference that Egypt's angry reaction "does not deter us from proceeding with this program." The plan was unveiled by Eden only Wednesday.

Press officer Lincoln White said Dulles "fully covered" the American attitude in his five-minute meeting with Hussein earlier.

The plan which Egypt opposes so strongly would line up the United States, Britain and France in a Suez Canal users' association. This association would seek to send ships, guided by non-Egyptian pilots, through the canal. Other countries using the canal have been asked to join the enterprise.

Dulles is understood to have offered it as a stop-gap move until diplomacy settles the bitter dispute with Egypt over who is to operate the strategic waterway.

Appealing for Egyptian reconsideration, Dulles told reporters he believes the plan was "not sufficiently understood" by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Egypt Warns Of War

... Canal Plan Hit

CAIRO (AP) — High Egyptian sources said Thursday night the government is convinced the projected international Suez Canal users' association is aimed to provoke war.

The government told the United States Thursday in an urgent note that imposing the plan on Egypt means war.

Soon afterward, Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference in Washington the United States has no intention of "shooting its way through the canal" and would send ships around Africa, if necessary, to avoid hostilities.

But one source close to President Gamal Abdel Nasser said nothing in Dulles' remarks had altered Nasser's opposition to the users' association plan.

'Very Vague'
This source said there was nothing in Dulles' remarks. Another called Dulles' statements "very vague indeed."

However, Nasser late Thursday night was going over the users' association plan again with his chief advisers—Ali Sabry and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi—seemingly heeding Dulles' urging that the plan be reconsidered in Cairo.

Another Egyptian communication went to the United Nations Thursday. It said Britain and France must be held responsible for any breakdown in canal operations arising from a walkout of foreign pilots and technicians.

More than 400 foreign pilots and other canal employees in Egypt have given notice to the Egyptian canal authority they will quit at midnight Friday.

Plan Denounced
The note to Washington was delivered to Dulles by Ambassador Ahmed Hussein. It denounced the plan for an international association to take over ship operations in the canal.

An Egyptian embassy statement credited the plan to Prime Minister Eden, although it originated and was approved in the United States with some French and British amendments.

The scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose upon Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression on Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war," the statement said.

Navy Ends Search

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Thursday called off the 7th Fleet's search for possible survivors of the patrol plane shot down by the Chinese Communists off the China coast three weeks ago.

A Navy announcement indicated no hope for finding survivors among the plane's 16 American crewmen. Four bodies have been recovered.

Britain May Go To Defense With Arms

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden predicted Thursday night Egypt's President Nasser will attack Israel next if he gets away with seizure of the Suez Canal. Eden hinted Britain would go to Israel's rescue with arms if necessary.

Eden told the House of Commons there was no doubt that an attack on Israel would be the next step for a triumphant Nasser.

The House gave Eden a 319-248 vote of confidence on his Suez policies after he refused to promise not to use force if necessary in the crisis and said he would resort to the U.N. if Egypt violated treaty rights.

Censure Refused
Before the final vote of confidence his supporters batted down a Labor motion of censure 321-251. In the closing minutes of the debate Eden asked:

"What will be the next step if Col. Nasser is allowed to succeed in the action he has taken?"

He added: "I have no doubt what it will be and I do not think the House has—Israel. Nasser called it 'the stooge of imperialism' in the very speech in which he nationalized the canal."

The voting came hours after Egypt told the Western powers their plan to take over control of Suez traffic, if carried through—will flash off a new war.

The tense House brushed aside the Egyptian contention that setting up a canal users' association to run ships through it "means war."

Stiffens Stand
The note stiffened the prime minister's campaign to keep the canal out of Nasser's sole control despite Laborite cries of "gunboat diplomacy."

There were similar votes of confidence in the House of Lords. Eden mentioned the possibility of asking U.N. action after Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell demanded to know whether the British government intended to shoot its way through the canal.

The prime minister said if Egypt barred the canal to a ship from the proposed users' association, the Western powers would demand security council action.

1888 Agreement
Barring a ship would violate the Suez Convention of 1888 on free access to the canal, Eden said.

The plans announced for the users' association Wednesday hinted the first test of President Nasser's intentions might be to try sending a ship with a fully qualified pilot through the canal.

Fifteen other countries have been invited to join the group. With the Western Big Three, they represent 90 per cent of the canal shipping traffic.

The Eden victory pointed up the Suez crisis hour of Friday midnight. Nearly 100 pilots and about 300 other non-Egyptian technicians along the 103-mile waterway made ready to walk off the job at that time.

Eden partly answered the "what next?" question in his speculation on the danger of an attack on Israel.

Lincoln Temp Hits 91; Rain Forecast

Lincoln's 91 degrees was the highest reading among the 10 Weather Bureau reporting stations in the state Thursday.

But eastern and southern Nebraska could expect cooler weather Friday, the Weather Bureau said.

Friday high temperatures were to range from 75 in the northeast to 85 in the southwest.

The state was to be considerably cloudy Friday, with occasional light rain beginning in the west Friday night and spreading eastward.

The only recent rainfall in the state was 22 inch at Chadron, 15 inch at Valentine and a trace at Sidney and Scottsbluff.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Partly cloudy Friday and Saturday. Few light showers northwest Friday evening moving across north and central to eastern border by Saturday morning. Cooler east, south Friday. High Friday 75 northeast, 85 southwest.

KANSAS: Partly cloudy Friday. Cooler east and central, slightly cooler elsewhere. High Friday lower 80s northeast to lower 90s extreme southwest.

Cops Seek 'Kidnaped' Babysitter

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (INS) — Police issued an all-points bulletin Thursday asking authorities to be alert for signs of a wealthy woman believed kidnaped from a swanky neighborhood in San Diego after struggling with an assailant.

Police said the woman, Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Latham, wife of an investment broker, has been missing since 2 p.m. Wednesday from the home of her daughter.

Mrs. Latham was babysitting with her four-month-old grandson at the daughter's home, police said.

There were signs in the home that Mrs. Latham had put up a furious fight against someone who apparently attacked her and forced her from the house.

Officers also said that a number of signed, blank checks were missing from the home.

FARM SURPLUS PEAK IN SIGHT

WASHINGTON (INS)—Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said that the peak in the nation's huge stockpile of agricultural commodities "may be reached before there is another harvest."

Morse told a national sales executives board of directors luncheon that the surplus problem is being brought under control and that the following gains will lead to increased profits for farmers:

1. Exports were boosted 11 per cent last year and are now about one-fourth above the 1952-53 level.

2. More cotton will be sold than is being produced this year.

3. For wheat, the other major surplus problem, production will just about equal sales and use. There may be a modest decline in the carryover.

4. Feed grain production is forecast at 4 per cent below last year so there may be reduced carryover of some stocks.

Some Education On Sex Given In Schools Here

Emphasis On Family And Home Relationships, Says Dr. Watkins

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Students in junior high schools and senior high schools in the Lincoln public school system receive some sex education mostly on home and family relationships, Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools said Thursday.

The school official's comments came in answer to questions about a syndicated column which indicated that teen-agers think sex education at the high school level is a necessity but that it comes too late. (For the column, one of a series on "What Young People Think," see Page 4.)

Dr. Watkins said all such courses in the public schools are carried on in conjunction with the PTA.

Most instruction in that area comes as a part of science courses and not as separate courses, Dr. Watkins said. Separate courses are offered only as electives, he said.

Dr. Watkins said the school system secures "Mature instructors" for such instruction and that "we are pretty conservative" in the instruction.

Lincoln students are taught with classroom discussion, textbooks and some visual aids.

Details For College

"We leave more detailed instruction to the university level," he said.

Asked whether he would favor sex education at the grammar school level, as a majority of teenagers are reported to favor in the poll results on page 4, Dr. Watkins said that "at this time I think that would be too early."

He emphasized the part that the home and church should play in properly instructing youngsters about marriage and the family.

Killed were the truck driver, Francis G. Pesko, 43, of Detroit; and two bus passengers, Mrs. Frankie Mae Semple, 38, also of Detroit, and an unidentified Negro woman.

State Police said the crash occurred in the center lane of a three lane highway. The Sheriff's Department classifies the section, one of Michigan's busiest highway arteries, as a "high accident area."

Troopers of the Erie post said the truck caught fire as the two vehicles slid into a ditch locked side by side. The flames spread rapidly to the big bus.

Raymond Clancy, 26, of Dearborn, a Detroit suburb, said he and other passengers were unable to rescue Mrs. Semple. He said they tried to pull her out through a window but "she fell back into her seat and seemed to freeze there."

Nearby residents helped pull victims from the wreckage.

The 23 bus passengers escaped through kick-out windows.

Some Education On Sex Given In Schools Here

Emphasis On Family And Home Relationships, Says Dr. Watkins

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Students in junior high schools and senior high schools in the Lincoln public school system receive some sex education mostly on home and family relationships, Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools said Thursday.

The school official's comments came in answer to questions about a syndicated column which indicated that teen-agers think sex education at the high school level is a necessity but that it comes too late. (For the column, one of a series on "What Young People Think," see Page 4.)

Dr. Watkins said all such courses in the public schools are carried on in conjunction with the PTA.

Most instruction in that area comes as a part of science courses and not as separate courses, Dr. Watkins said. Separate courses are offered only as electives, he said.

Dr. Watkins said the school system secures "Mature instructors" for such instruction and that "we are pretty conservative" in the instruction.

Lincoln students are taught with classroom discussion, textbooks and some visual aids.

Details For College
"We leave more detailed instruction to the university level," he said.

Asked whether he would favor sex education at the grammar school level, as a majority of teen-agers are reported to favor in the poll results on page 4, Dr. Watkins said that "at this time I think that would be too early."

He emphasized the part that the home and church should play in properly instructing youngsters about marriage and the family.

Three Die As Truck, Bus Burn

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — Three persons were killed and 22 injured Thursday in a fiery head-on crash of a double-decked Greyhound bus and an auto-hauling truck loaded with cars.

The collision occurred on U. S. 24 about two miles north of Monroe. The bus was en route to Detroit from Pittsburgh.

Killed were the truck driver, Francis G. Pesko, 43, of Detroit; and two bus passengers, Mrs. Frankie Mae Semple, 38, also of Detroit, and an unidentified Negro woman.

State Police said the crash occurred in the center lane of a three lane highway. The Sheriff's Department classifies the section, one of Michigan's busiest highway arteries, as a "high accident area."

Troopers of the Erie post said the truck caught fire as the two vehicles slid into a ditch locked side by side. The flames spread rapidly to the big bus.

Raymond Clancy, 26, of Dearborn, a Detroit suburb, said he and other passengers were unable to rescue Mrs. Semple. He said they tried to pull her out through a window but "she fell back into the seat and seemed to freeze there."

Nearby residents helped pull victims from the wreckage.

The 23 bus passengers escaped through kick-out windows.

Ike Feeling Better After Scoring 83

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS) — President Eisenhower, who told Republicans Wednesday he is feeling "fine," felt even better Thursday after shooting his best round of golf since undergoing an ileitis operation three months ago.

The chief executive carded an 83 over 18 holes of the Gettysburg Country Club, alternately walking and driving his own electric caddy.

Friends said it was the finest round he has played since his operation on June 9 and possibly since his heart attack almost a year ago. He played the nine-hole course twice with two Gettysburg neighbors, George Allen and retired Army Gen. Arthur Nevins.

The President conferred three times by telephone during the day with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the Suez Canal crisis and on the latest disarmament message to Mr. Eisenhower from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Three-year-old Johnny Durham faces his mother at an emergency hospital in Wilmington, Calif. where he was taken after a neighbor found him sitting in a pool of crude oil near his home. His mother, Mrs. Edna Durham, had reported him lost.

The oil puddle—seepage from a storage tank—was small and only three inches deep, but Johnny found it. Hospital attendants pronounced him unhurt, and wrapped him in a plastic bag for the trip home—and a long bath. (AP Wirephoto.)

44,000 New 1-Dollar Bills Said Missing

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Treasury announced Thursday that a $44,000 shipment of new currency has disappeared while en route from Washington to the Federal Reserve Branch in Memphis, Tenn.

The Post Office Department and the Treasury are investigating the disappearance of the money which was sent Friday by railway mail via Chattanooga, Tenn.

The missing shipment was one of 22 pouches of new money being sent to Memphis. The other 21 pouches arrived safely. The treasury did not estimate how much money they contained.

All of the missing money is in new one-dollar bills. The Treasury said that the serial numbers of the bills range from C621840011 through C622280001.

Pope's Physician: Eggs And Bee Food Combat Senility

ROME (AP) — The personal physician of Pope Pius XII said Thursday that including partially incubated eggs mixed with the food of queen bees helps to prevent senility in humans.

Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, who has been personal physician to the Pope for more than 20 years, was reporting to the second World Dietetic Congress here. More than 600 experts from 40 nations are attending.

"Undoubtedly, chicken eggs incubated for nine days are a constructive food which increases the physical resistance against disease and, consequently, prolongs life," he said.

Dr. Galeazzi-Lisi said research he conducted with his son, Dr. Antonello Galeazzi-Lisi, had disclosed the added benefits of mixing the eggs with "royal gelatine." This is the food which worker bees bring to the queen bee.

He did not say whether the egg mixture had been used by the Pope.

New Electronic Eye May Aid 200-Inch Telescope

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A potent new electronic eye unveiled Thursday may let the 200-inch Palomar telescope see three times farther into space, perhaps to the edge of the universe.

It might also capture really clear, detailed pictures of Mars to solve the mystery of its "canals."

This amazing but tiny tube can make faint light and images thousands of times brighter. That's the hope for seeing stars so far away they are invisible now.

It will be used on the great Mt. Palomar telescope perhaps within six months, said Dr. J. W. Colman of Westinghouse Electric Corp. The Ualumar telescope in effect would become equal to a telescope with a mirror 2,000 inches wide, or half the length of a football field.

Theoretically it might see objects three times farther out in space than now is possible, Dr. Colman said. Palomar now takes pictures of stars one to two billion light years away — the distance light travels in that time at 186,000 miles per second.

The electronic eye might help it see out three to six billion light years. If, as some astronomers think, that would mean visibility out to the edge of the universe.

So new it has no official name yet, the new tube was shown to science writers touring the new Westinghouse Research Laboratories by Dr. Colman, manager of the electronics and nuclear physics department, and Dr. J. A. Hutcheson, vice president of engineering and research.

C. F. BRANNAN CONGRATULATES HIS OPPONENT

DENVER (AP) — Charles F. Brannan Thursday congratulated John A. Carroll on his apparent victory in Tuesday's Democratic primary for nomination for the U.S. Senate and offered his help in the campaign.

A letter from Brannan to the Carroll headquarters said: "It is apparent that you have now won the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate. Congratulations. I will be available to assist wherever needed during the remainder of this campaign. I am convinced we must win that Senate seat."

Brannan aides said the letter did not mean that the former secretary of agriculture is conceding there might not yet be errors found in the unofficial count of the vote which might change the close result.

Brannan has said he will decide after the official canvass is made next week whether to ask for a recount.

Carroll, 55-year-old lawyer and former representative, has declined to make any outright claim of victory.

Rainier, Bride Talk To Meet Of Newsmen

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — While his serene Princess Grace looked at him drolly and drolly, Prince Rainier of Monaco Thursday delivered his first public address in America.

It amounted to a princely pitch for tourist trade in his 360-acre homeland.

"My country is not only a 'sunny spot for shady people,' " said the prince, shyly quoting author Somerset Maugham, "it is also a place of research and thought. . . and we have lasted, despite our small size, for seven centuries."

The mustached monarch delivered his address at a meeting of the overseas press club in the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, and it was hard for the 250 guests to concentrate on his words—so radiant was his proud bride.

The former Miss Kelly, startlingly pale and beautiful in an all-black costume, behaved like a lass stricken with love at first sight. During her husband's nervously-delivered 10-minute speech, she kept her hands clasped before her and her eyes focused fondly on his face.

Missed

The meeting was thrown open to questions from Overseas Press Club members after all the champagne had been consumed, and Grace was asked if there was "anything you've missed about America during your residence in Monaco?"

Slowly she rose and, in her usual quiet voice, announced:

"My husband and the people of Monaco have gone to such pains to make me feel at home. But naturally, I miss my friends and family and a few American dishes."

"I don't know, though, if it is just being away or having a baby that made me miss certain things to eat."

4 Nebraska Youths Jailed In Minnesota

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Four Nebraska boys were seized by Rochester police early Thursday in a stolen new car containing two loaded pistols, six rifles and shotguns, boxes of jewelry and clothing.

The youths, 15 to 17 years old, were found sleeping in the car at 3 a.m. All were taken in for questioning. Police said one youth said the car had been stolen from a car lot in Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 6. He told police the four spent several days in Omaha and then headed across Iowa, prowling homes on the way. He could not name definite places.

Two of the youths are from Lincoln and two from Omaha. No charges have been filed. Rochester juvenile authorities said investigation information was being turned over to Lincoln police.

The car was stolen from the Mowbray Buick car lot at 15th & Q, Lincoln police said. Although two of the boys list Omaha as their home address, one of them is actually from a Lincoln home, police said.

The FBI has entered the case due to the transportation of a stolen car across state lines. The boys are being held in Rochester and will either be prosecuted there by the FBI or in Lincoln on a stolen car charge, police officials said.

Lincoln police will prosecute only if the FBI does not, a police official said.

Dredla Asks Whose Rights Were Denied

... Answers Complaint

Board of Control Chairman Thomas Dredla asked Thursday for any names of persons whose rights may have been violated in county assistance cases in Red Willow County.

Dredla's remarks were made following a letter from Dr. J. H. Donaldson Jr., of McCook, alleging that many eligible applicants are being denied assistance care.

Donaldson said some persons are being denied care because they would not go to the physician "of the personal choice of the county assistance director" or because they would not sign over to the county "their last remaining possession, their home."

Dredla said the letter was so general that it precluded investigation of any specific payment or case. He informed Donaldson, "We are concerned with any violations of the rights of recipients of public assistance."

The Board chairman said he was of the opinion that the applicants for aid are not obliged to go to the physician selected by the county assistance director. He noted, however, that under Nebraska law a lien is filed and recorded against real estate owned by recipients.

It Happened In NEBRASKA...

In 1875, an eastern college professor visited northwestern Nebraska and requested permission from the Sioux to hunt for fossils on their reservation. At first the Indians refused, fearing that the white man really sought gold. Later they relented, and gave the professor a Sioux name, "Man-That-Picks-Up-Bones."

Let your wife tell you that friends will be stopping in, and you'll be known as "Man-Who-Picks-Up-Hospitality." Of course, we mean food for a snack—and a good supply of refreshing beer. No other beverage fits every occasion so well. Serve beer—every time!

Airlines Official: Airway Network Is 'Antiquated Cowpath'

... The Answer Is 'Positive Control'

WASHINGTON (U)—The present airway network is "antiquated as a cowpath" for high-flying Super Constellation and DC-7s on coast-to-coast runs, a spokesman for the scheduled airlines testified Thursday.

The answer to the problem of air collisions, he told a House subcommittee, is "positive control"—control of all traffic in all kinds of weather by ground control stations.

The testimony came from Milton W. Arnold, vice president of operations and engineering for the Air Transport Assn., an organization composed of all the scheduled airlines of the nation.

He also told the subcommittee, which is inquiring into air traffic problems, that a special committee of his association has approved a new type of "proximity warning equipment" to tell planes when they are approaching other aircraft.

American Airlines, the nation's largest domestic air operator, promptly announced that, as a result of the committee's report, it was negotiating for the equipment on its entire airplane fleet.

Arnold also called for more federal airways—routes in which pilots may fly entirely by instruments under the control and supervision of ground radar and navigation and communications stations. Off the airways there are few navigational aids.

He told the House inquiry group greater numbers of better-piloted air traffic control personnel also are needed.

Arnold went into detail about the new "proximity warning equipment," made by Collins Radio Co., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and said it would give pilots warning of a closure rate at "relatively slow" speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

Low Rates
Civil Aeronautics Board studies show most airplane collisions have occurred at relatively low rates of closure speed, he said.

Warning equipment for high closing speeds is "more difficult" and will take a longer time to develop, he said.

The report of the ATA committee said the Collins equipment, costing between $5,000 and $8,000 per airplane for installation, was "the most satisfactory of proposals developed so far."

Airway
In his testimony concerning the need for "positive control," Arnold said his organization asked more than two years ago for designation of an airway across the Grand Canyon area of northern Arizona—specifically from Bagdad, Calif., to Pueblo, Colo.

It was on this route that two airplanes collided June 30, killing 123 persons.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration was unable to fulfill the Arizona request because of lack of adequate funds, facilities and personnel, Arnold said.

The CAA announced Wednesday it would establish a new airway over the California-Colorado route across the Grand Canyon next spring.

No Savings, Loan Dividend Rate Hike Planned In City

Lincoln savings and loan associations do not plan to increase their dividend rates in the near future, officials of the associations said Thursday.

In commenting on an increase in dividend rates contemplated by associations in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., "It's purely a local situation in Minneapolis and St. Paul," a Lincoln association official said.

Two C. & N. rates are to be raised from three per cent to three and one-fourth per cent according to price dispatches.

Lincoln associations generally pay a three per cent dividend. The action in the Twin Cities follows a mid-summer increase in interest on savings deposits by Minneapolis commercial and savings banks.

Minneapolis financial men say the higher rates being paid on savings are part of the higher cost of money that has been developing for some time in the area. The dividend boost in the area comes as no surprise, they said.

One Lincoln association official said dividend rates for savings and loan associations differ throughout the nation. The rate on the West Coast is generally four per cent, he said.

Seizure Of Canal Magnified Tensions—Justice Simmons

Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of Nebraska reported on his return Thursday from the Middle East that Egypt's seizure of the Suez canal magnified tensions in the Jordan-Syria-Egypt area.

On the possibility of a general outbreak of a small war, Justice Simmons said "Everyone hopes it won't (happen) but all live in fear it may."

The chief justice toured the Middle East through Asia and Africa on a goodwill trip visiting bar associations and law officials.

Israel, Border 'Hottest'
Justice Simmons said the most potentially explosive area is the Israeli border. He said he felt there was less chance of a general war involving Egypt.

In visiting lawyers and judges throughout the Middle East, Justice Simmons said the English legal system was being given a generally favorable reception.

He found the people in the Middle East "quite friendly" to the American people, Justice Simmons said. On the other hand, he noted, "there was some inability for them to understand what the U.S. government does."

He noted that many counties

Cops Claim Man Stabbed Wife, Self

... Both Found Dead

LOS ANGELES (U)—Homicide investigators said an apartment house manager stabbed his wife in the chest Thursday, then pushed her from their car to let her bleed to death in the street while he parked his car not far away and killed himself with a butcher knife.

The deaths of Chester C. Wilshusen, 43, and Mrs. Shirley Wilshusen, 33, were listed as murder and suicide.

No notes were found. Mrs. Wilshusen was clad in a flimsy green nightgown and a pink silk scarf.

Detectives Tom M. Gorey and Hugh J. Palmer said the woman apparently bled to death after being stabbed and then thrown from an automobile. The spot where the body was found is a few blocks north of the University of Southern California campus.

The man was clad only in blue jeans and slippers. A handkerchief was wrapped around the handle of the knife.

No Savings, Loan Dividend Rate Hike Planned in City

Lincoln savings and loan associations do not plan to increase their dividend rates in the near future, officials of the associations said Thursday, in commenting on an increase in dividend rates contemplated by associations in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn.

"It's purely a local situation in Minneapolis and St. Paul," a Lincoln association official said.

Twin City rates are to be raised from three per cent to three and one-fourth per cent according to price dispatches.

Lincoln associations generally pay a three per cent dividend. The action in the Twin Cities follows a mid-summer increase in interest on savings deposits by Minneapolis commercial and savings banks.

Minneapolis financial men say the higher rates being paid on savings are part of the higher cost of money that has been developing for some time in the area. The dividend boost in the area comes as no surprise, they said.

One Lincoln association official said dividend rates for savings and loan associations differ throughout the nation. The rate on the West Coast is generally four per cent, he said.

Israel, Border 'Hottest'
Justice Simmons said the most potentially explosive area is the Israeli border. He said he felt there was less chance of a general war involving Egypt.

In visiting lawyers and judges throughout the Middle East, Justice Simmons said the English legal system was being given a generally favorable reception.

He found the people in the Middle East "quite friendly" to the American people, Justice Simmons said. On the other hand, he noted, "there was some inability for them to understand what the U.S. government does."

He noted that many counties

Seizure Of Canal Magnified Tensions—Justice Simmons

Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of Nebraska reported on his return Thursday from the Middle East that Egypt's seizure of the Suez canal magnified tensions in the Jordan-Syria-Egypt area.

"All I need now is more books," Justice Simmons concluded. The books, all legal volumes, are sent to judges and lawyers throughout the Middle and Far East.

To date, more than 4,000 volumes have been sent to these countries through Simmons' efforts.

Mother Of Six Adopted Children Has First Baby
WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—A starry-eyed mother of seven children left the hospital at nearby St. Marys Thursday with her first baby.

Two and one-half years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Martin of nearby Wapakoneta were childless. But on March 20, 1954, they adopted six children at one time. The ages of the youngsters—Brenda, Bernard, Elizabeth, David, John and Dianna—now range from 5 to 12. A week ago, Mrs. Martin gave birth to Nathan Benjamin.

Cops Claim Man Stabbed Wife, Self

... Both Found Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Homicide investigators said an apartment house manager stabbed his wife in the chest Thursday, then pushed her from their car to let her bleed to death in the street while he parked his car not far away and killed himself with a butcher knife.

The deaths of Chester C. Wilshusen, 43, and Mrs. Shirley Wilshusen, 53, were listed as murder and suicide.

No notes were found. Mrs. Wilshusen was clad in a flimsy green nightgown and a pink silk scarf.

Detectives Tom M. Gorey and Hugh J. Palmer said the woman apparently bled to death after being stabbed and then thrown from an automobile. The spot where the body was found is a few blocks north of the University of Southern California campus.

The man was clad only in blue jeans and slippers. A handkerchief was wrapped around the handle of the knife.

We Will Buy That

A nation that is struggling with indigent success against an unmitigated and altogether too great toll of highway fatalities owes searching thought to the remarks of a California physician.

Dr. Emil Seletz, of the University of California School of Medicine, said the capacities of today's streamlined high powered cars are beyond the physiological capacity of human responses under emergency circumstances where great speed is present. What he said is that people are not quick enough to handle speeding cars when unexpected trouble looms.

The doctor may have raised a debatable subject but he speaks from personal experience of treating more than 20,000 accident victims. He is on familiar ground.

General evidence seems to sustain him. Despite the long crusade for traffic safety and the very good intentions of most who take to the road in their cars the accident toll is still with us, mostly caused from what is described as preventable accidents.

It is the definition of preventable that the physician strikes at, that is, an accident is not preventable if the participants cannot act fast enough to avert it.

We would say that in the face of 40,000 annual fatalities there would be nothing improper in accepting one doctor's word and acting accordingly. And acting would enter more than one field. More weight should be given to reaction tests before a license is granted. Highways should be carefully planned to eliminate emergency-provoking factors. And individuals should ascertain their own safe speed ranges and remain more faithfully within them.

What Are Lloyd's Odds?

State Agricultural Stabilization Administration officials estimate that Nebraska wheat farmers can collect $25 million next year by putting crop land into the soil bank acreage reserve.

That is an impressive figure. At half as much it would still be a handsome prize for restraining a farmer from working his land. But before it is accepted in the form of a windfall there are some facts to be considered.

The $25 million is the Benson offer to remove approximately 960,000 acres of Nebraska wheat land from production. The presumption is that lowered acres will result in fewer bushels and by whatever is fewer the federal surplus of wheat will be reduced—ultimately eliminated.

That is an attractive premise. But whether it is an accurate one is another matter.

The Benson administration from 1953 on reduced wheat acres under the old farm program. Slightly more than 1 million Nebraska acres were knocked out of production by the time the 1955 crop came. A Lincoln Star survey showed that wheat yields actually increased during the acre-reducing period. It will be interesting to see which way production figures go with an additional 960,000 acre take out.

A second look at the $25 million payment for non-production reminds that if it buys that which Mr. Benson desires the producing farmer will be largely unrelieved. Applying 10 year yield averages and current per bushel prices to 960,000 acres it can be conservatively estimated that farming the land would earn the producers approximately $40 million.

So there is the dilemma. If the soil bank doesn't work, that is, doesn't bring about proportionately lower production the tax paying public has lost its $25 million gamble in Nebraska wheat. If it does work, the producing farmers are in a way of losing something like $15 million.

Constitution Week

It was not long ago that Governor Victor Anderson proclaimed Constitution Week setting September 17-23 as the period for Nebraska observance. That happens to be next week and suggests the rather personal question of what most are doing about it?

It is easy to take a constitution for granted unless it is a very bad one. Then the oppressions and inadequacies are on one's mind all the time. But that is not the case with the Constitution of the United States. From the outset it was a tremendous human document, the envy of the world, and a torch that has kept the path brightly lit, leading always to a happier and more just way of living. It was based on a simple premise—the superiority of human interests, based on the conviction that people are inherently good, dependable and constructive. Whenever the nation strays from that principle things begin to work badly. When it adheres the reverse develops.

The constitution is something that should be celebrated every day if only to review some of its blessings. For instance judge this country if one spoke one's mind only at the peril of his security, if one read only that which was deemed good for him, if one could not be represented in government, but obeyed whoever said he was chief with enough force to back it up, if one's only chances for any kind of success depended upon political service and the whim of a superior. With a little reflection on such disagreeable subjects we imagine the best of all aims would be to have a good constitution to celebrate.

Trying Task

The West is receiving small comfort from the responses of Arab and Asian countries to Col. Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal in the name of Egypt.

In Lincoln lately official visitors from Pakistan said the people of their country are sympathetic to Nasser. Shankar's Weekly of New Delhi, India, had little good to say of Great Britain and France.

There is a revelation in this surge of sympathy for Egypt that tells a formidable story about colonialism. Whatever it may have been, good or bad, there is one thing certain. Most of the colonials blame it for their hardship. The right or wrong of the Suez grab is not too material to the ex-colonies. It is the fact that Egypt is standing up to two great colonial forces.

Certainly the most monumental task for U.S. statecraft is to liquidate the prejudice, at least insofar as itself is concerned, in the colonial sphere. The job is made double difficult because of our natural associations. A proper role seems to be neither that of denouncing our allies Britain and France or throwing weight against former colonies but acting as a bridge between the two.

Hurt Inflicted By Television?

It is difficult to join J. R. "Russ" Wiggins of the Washington Post in his expressed fear that television will reduce the two national conventions to the dreary status of ratifying assemblies. Sure, the Republican convention in San Francisco was devoid of a heartbeat, quickened in the slightest degree by what could be heard or seen. That was not the fault of television, however. Whoever arranged the program—we assume Len Hall had a big finger in that—must take his share of criticism. He lacked a sense of humor so essential when the convention could not hope for any of the drama or excitement of the clash of good cold steel upon good cold steel. Mr. Hall did not anticipate the need of a laugh in a solid week of speech-making. Then the persistent critical Mr. Wiggins says there was too much decided in advance. The big wheels got together with so much success there was not even the echo of a rumble to be heard. Mr. Wiggins thought that Terry Carpenter's "Joe Smith" provided an excellent example of the extent to which the American people were waiting and hoping for a bit of excitement to be anticipated in any free and open convention.

Walter Lippmann feels that the strategy of this shortened presidential campaign is so easy to discern in these opening days of the campaign while it is taking form. There are more registered Democrats than Republicans, this distinguished New York analyst writes. It is Mr. Stevenson's job to induce these Democrats who strayed from the fold in 1952 to come back home. All of his speeches adhere to the objective of binding up the wounds of the Democratic and the independent votes who supported Eisenhower in 1952 and avoiding inflection of new ones. Lippmann could be right but it is difficult to see the next eight weeks in the mellow outlines of a campaign notable for the restraint which characterizes it.

The Washington correspondent for the Los Angeles Times—the name is unimportant—sees strategy in an entirely different light. The Democrats, he wrote at the beginning of the week, do not plan to utilize Ike's health as a direct issue in the campaign. Instead both Stevenson and his running mate, Estes Kefauver, will stage an intensive, slap-bang type of campaign which will carry them to every state and every area the limited time permits. They will be on the go day and night, addressing crowds, shaking hands, by their own energy and activities providing a sharp contrast to Ike's campaign for re-election. There is one answer to that outline of strategy if it has any standing in Republican thinking. Mr. Stevenson would find himself in the position of being able to do nothing right. It would be a case of being damned if he did and damned if he didn't. It would be his bad luck to campaign intensively. It would be his misfortune to carry his case to as many states and as many American centers of population as circumstances permitted. Because President Eisenhower thus far has felt that he should limit his campaign activity to no good reason why either Adlai Stevenson or Sen. Kefauver should snare their campaign to fit Ike's pattern.

Nothing that has come to our attention in covering considerable distances in this country has led us to reach any other conclusion than the one with which we started. As this campaign gets under way and the air is filled with the first speeches, it is clear that the result is far from settled. And it is not purely complacency alone that could be dangerous to Republican chances. A lot of people who voted for the present administration in 1952 for some reason or other—good or bad—will not vote for Ike in 1956. We still think that it is the state of the pocketbook and the conditions of unemployment or employment which will dominate the election booth in early November. We have yet to encounter the reflected image of issues involving idealism. We do not expect to experience the heart-warming qualities of a grand crusade, America, we believe, will vote to express the financial condition in which voters find themselves. And that does not mean that as a nation we have lost our ideals or are bent upon sacrificing our idealism.

No Evidence Nasser Ever West's Friend

NAHARIA, Gahlee — In this part of the world where passions run as deep as the wells which search for water in desert sands, the biggest puzzle in the minds of diplomats, including Americans, is how the U.S. State Department got sucked into believing that Gamal Abdel Nasser was the great pal of the U.S.A.

Certainly, until six months ago, this was the contention of Hank Byroade, the svelte, usually able U.S. ambassador to Egypt, and of Loy Henderson, the deputy under-secretary, detailed to argue with Nasser in Cairo, and of Herbert Hoover Jr., his superior, and of John Foster Dulles, the superior of all three.

They believed that Colonel Nasser was a trusted friend of the United States, pushed at times by Egyptian extremists toward Russia to be sure, but devoutly anxious to hit up the disesteemed masses of Egypt and line up his country with the West. Henderson, Hoover, Byroade, et al., not only believed this but were so firmly convinced that they painstakingly and patiently tried to sell the idea to the British. They were even hurt, puzzled and irritated when the British refused 100 per cent to believe.

ENGLAND'S SPLIT POLICY

To some extent the British did believe; but their belief resulted not so much from American persuasion but from the split policy of the British Foreign Office which always plays part of the empire's poker chips on the Arabs, part on the non-Arabs in the Middle East.

The British knew, at least in a general sort of way, that while Colonel Nasser was sweet-talking them, his agents were undermining the empire all over Africa and Asia. They were stirring up trouble in British Somaliland, inciting revolt in Tanganyika, contriving to get Glubb Pasha kicked out of Jordan as head of the Arab Legion, trying to woo King Saud of Saudi Arabia away from the West and sabotaging the defense alliance with pro-British Iraq.

All this time the handsome and charming Gamal Abdel Nasser was talking big about helping the downtrodden Egyptian people, about putting across the Eric Johnston agreement for irrigating the river Jordan, and about his general friendship with the West.

U.S. DIPLOMATS CAN'T SEE

On Oct. 11, 1955, almost a year ago, the Cairo radio proclaimed: "Justice and logic require that we now defend Russia and attack America, which has shown falsehood, deceit and ill-will."

On Oct. 2, 1955 Al-Ahram, the Cairo daily, proclaimed: "America with all its millions and billions cannot win the heart of Egypt with diseased Point 4 chicks. . . . Nor can America win the heart of Egypt with cheese, condensed milk, etc., which we know she is interested in getting rid of. America cannot win the heart of Egyptians with her worthless colored posters in which she attacks Communism while she herself is not a Democratic country."

On Oct. 11, 1955, also a year ago, the Cairo radio proclaimed: "American weapons provide the basic channel for the penetration of American influence. The Americans, therefore, invented what they called the Mutual Security pact. They offer it to miserable nations forced by circumstances to arm, and they innocently say to them: 'All you have to do is sign this pact and American weapons will pour into your country without costing you a single cent.'"

On Dec. 13, 1955, Cairo radio proclaimed: "In Turkey there is backwardness which has been made more so through American aid. . . . Where is the prosperity enjoyed by Turkey after having received dozens of millions from its friend, the United States?"

BOB CONSIDINE

Ike Gives GOP Campaign Theme

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — Republican leaders devoured enough free fried chicken, ham, baked beans, potato salad and ice cream at Ike's farm the other day—at the pep rally—to feed all of Gen. Pickett's men before the charge they made across these hallowed fields 93 years ago.

It was like an old Currier and Ives print of a farm picnic which might have been captioned "Plenty." The loudspeakers bayed pleasant chants. The Black Angus stood like picture cattle in their neighboring pasture, and the vigorous 65-year-old President, called by Len Hall "the greatest living citizen of the modern world," stood beaming from a flag-draped rostrum. He won an ovation by saying, with brimming confidence, "I feel fine!"

But the whole mood of the fine show was, "Watch out! This is too good to last, unless we get out and work like the dickens."

The theme of the GOP campaign, if this kick-off party is a criterion, will be roughly this:

1.—Peace, progress, prosperity, full employment and other current "plus" factors of the American scene can be maintained only by Ike's reelection.

2.—The country will enter into an even greater era, under the Party of the Future, if voters elect a GOP congress and a majority of governors.

3.—Ike, and the "team," will lose—with perhaps appalling results here and abroad—unless all Republicans register and vote and each becomes a missionary bent on converting Independents, non-voters and "discerning Democrats."

There were, of course, voices of vibrant optimism. A bald man named Charles K. McWhorter, head of the Young Republicans, spoke of victory in November through the combined efforts of other youths like himself. Morton H. Hollingsworth, of Illinois, threatened a dire political end for Adlai Stevenson in the nominee's state and others.

But the President took his mood from Mrs. Dorothy Houghton, co-chairman of the National Citizens for Eisenhower. Mrs. Houghton's general theme was that it's going to be a heck of a fight this time. "Remember the Maine," she cried, then added, "We could well have that as our slogan today. Remember the Maine as of Monday, where the stay-at-home vote got out and the Independent vote put in those Democrats." The President said that a lesson could be drawn from what happened in Maine, which re-elected a Democratic governor and sent to Congress its first Democrat since 1934.

Not All Up To Ike, GOP Being Weighed

NEW YORK — The politicians are beginning to look upon the presidential election with a certain wild surmise.

They confront today two diametrically opposite developments. All the polls and the general political conversation suggest that President Eisenhower's personal popularity is undiminished since his sweeping electoral victory in 1952. They support the conviction of Republican party managers that all that is necessary for another victory is to put Mr. Eisenhower on the ticket, arrange a few television spectacles for him and he's in again.

But the Maine election and varied primaries following it this week support a Democratic trend which began in 1952 and extends from coast to coast, from courthouse to Congress. These are practical results as distinguished from politics considered as a popularity contest.

For public consumption, it is easy for the propagandists in both parties to prove that they are bound to win. Behind the scenes, discussions about what to do are heated and intense.

Republicans are asking themselves whether the public accepts their thesis that the election is between their soldier-hero and Adlai Stevenson.

They must face the possibility that the voter sees the election as a contest between an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket—with heavy emphasis on Nixon—and Adlai Stevenson, symbol and spokesman for the Democratic philosophy which has been proving its attraction in so many contests.

Democrats are reassessing Stevenson and his appeal. They have been inclining toward the idea that their Congressional candidates were stronger than their national ticket. Many of them expected to carry Congress, as in 1954, but were disposed to accept an Eisenhower victory as inevitable.

They are now not at all sure that what they regard as their superior local tickets is the whole story.

Stevenson has not argued that prosperity and peace—the Republican slogans—are a total illusion. He has said that they are not enough, that while prosperity is widespread, it leaves out many Americans and ignores vital aspects of the Democratic way of life. He has questioned whether the nation is enjoying "peace in our time" at the expense of the future.

Any changes in the Republican operation must begin at the White House where the President still seems to cling to the coalition theory. It was Governor Edmund S. Muskie's popularity, he suggested to his press conference, that caused the Maine upset. The professionals are not so sure.

GILBERT'S 'What Young People Think'

Teen-Agers Favor Sex Education; But Think It's Too Late For Them

By EUGENE GILBERT

President of the

Gilbert Youth Research Co. Teen-agers in American public schools are insisting that while sex education at the high school level is certainly a necessity, it already is too late for them to be taught.

"My goodness," exclaimed a Jersey City teenager, "don't you think we know all the facts of life by then? Why by the time I was 10 I knew all about the birds and bees! If we are taught correctly at all, it must be in grammar school."

The young people we interviewed from public high schools throughout the country are not particularly interested in sex education as far as they are concerned. They claim they have already gleaned their knowledge, for better or worse. It is for their younger sisters and brothers and future generations that they are concerned.

"I surely don't want my kids to hear about it the way I did!" a Boston youngster responded. "My friends really had me frightened until my parents set me right. But there were four plenty mixed-up years in between."

Almost without exception the youngsters interviewed were able to pinpoint the source of their earliest contact with the facts of life. An overwhelming preponderance of them (74.9 per cent of the boys and 63.3 per cent of the girls) had their first brush with the subject in discussions among themselves.

HOW THEY FIRST LEARNED

The highest percentage of instructors were schoolmates and street friends. To a much lesser degree, parents were instrumental in educating their children. Several youngsters credited their knowledge to conversations with hygiene instructors, camp counselors, close relatives, clerics, doctors and nurses.

On the whole, it was revealed that their approach to this normal stage of physical development was guided by persons least qualified to render this vital service.

A more complete and perhaps less dangerous awakening to the facts of life was shared by the 13.6 per cent of the boys and 13.3 per cent of the girls who read up on the subject—either in medical books, church pamphlets or sex manuals.

THEY TURN TO PARENTS

Although the vast majority of young people would have preferred to learn about sex from their parents (69.1 per cent of the boys and 69.7 per cent of the girls), another major study by our organization showed that the youngsters felt parents were not equipped to teach them about sex and the school would do the best job.

Besides, both boys and girls were unanimous in deploring the lack of sufficient clinical instruction. A large percentage told our interviewers that while they preferred to gain first sex knowledge from their mothers or fathers, they would appreciate the clinical explanation that would be added by a course in school.

"Sure, a parent should be the first to let you in on the secret," observed a Milwaukee boy. But most parents wouldn't know how,

Maybe there should be a course to teach parents to teach children. That would solve the whole problem."

"Since 60 per cent of all the teenagers interviewed say they learned something about sex before reaching their teens, they are firm in their insistence that junior high school—and even elementary school—is the place for initial instruction.

"Going steady" is becoming more and more popular among younger and younger teens. So, if 13 through 15 year-olds are going to start heavy dating, they surely should be given sufficient education to protect them.

Sales Tax

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: At the hearing of the tax committee of the Legislature, Gordon Preble, who is sponsor for organized labor, proposed a sales tax for Nebraska. If that were passed, as soon as it took effect union labor would ask for more pay, with strikes and walkouts, thus creating havoc for all the citizens of the state. Possibly they would be justified in asking raises because of the higher cost of living. It's time now that the people in all legislative districts ask the nominees how they stand on this subject and if they are for a sales tax, defeat them.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I've been wondering what is happening to our young people. I don't remember that youth of an earlier day were as rude and thoughtless as I found a group of today to be.

In returning home from the bus line, I must come by one of our schools and this time it happened to be just as school had been dismissed. This was the experience I had.

Coming two and three abreast on the sidewalk, there was no effort to make room for one coming from the opposite direction. It was either step off the walk or get bumped. I chose the latter, thinking it might at least call their attention to just how rude and inconsiderate they were. But I wonder—is the home or the school to blame?

We Will Buy That

A nation that is struggling with indifferent success against an unremitting and altogether too great toll of highway fatalities owes searching thought to the remarks of a California physician.

Dr. Emil Seletz, of the University of California School of Medicine, said the capacities of today's streamlined high powered cars are beyond the physiological capacity of human responses under emergency circumstances where great speed is present. What he said is that people are not quick enough to handle speeding cars when unexpected trouble looms.

The doctor may have raised a debatable subject but, he speaks from personal experience of treating more than 20,000 accident victims. He is on familiar ground.

General evidence seems to sustain him. Despite the long crusade for traffic safety and the very good intentions of most who take to the road in their cars the accident toll is still with us, mostly caused from what is described as preventable accidents.

It is the definition of preventable that the physician strikes at, that is, an accident is not preventable if the participants cannot act fast enough to avert it.

We would say that in the face of 40,000 annual fatalities there would be nothing improper in accepting one doctor's word and acting accordingly. And acting would enter more than one field. More weight should be given to reaction tests before a license is granted. Highways should be carefully planned to eliminate emergency-provoking factors. And individuals should ascertain their own safe speed ranges and remain more faithfully within them.

What Are Lloyd's Odds?

State Agricultural Stabilization Administration officials estimate that Nebraska wheat farmers can collect $25 million next year by putting crop land into the soil bank acreage reserve.

That is an impressive figure. At half as much it would still be a handsome prize for restraining a farmer from working his land. But before it is accepted in the form of a windfall there are some facts to be considered.

The $25 million is the Benson offer to remove approximately 960,000 acres of Nebraska wheat land from production. The presumption is that lowered acres will result in fewer bushels and by whatever is fewer the federal surplus of wheat will be reduced—ultimately eliminated.

That is an attractive premise. But whether it is an accurate one is another matter.

The Benson administration from 1953 on reduced wheat acres under the old farm program. Slightly more than 1 million Nebraska acres were knocked out of production by the time the 1955 crop came. A Lincoln Star survey showed that wheat yields actually increased during the acre-shrinking period. It will be interesting to see which way production figures go with an additional 960,000 acre take out.

A second look at the $25 million payment for non-production reminds that if it buys that which Mr. Benson desires the producing farmer will be largely unrelieved. Applying 10 year yield averages and current per bushel prices to 960,000 acres it can be conservatively estimated that farming the land would earn the producers approximately $40 million.

So there is the dilemma. If the soil bank doesn't work, that is, doesn't bring about proportionately lower production the tax paying public has lost its $25 million gamble in Nebraska wheat. If it does work, the producing farmers are in a way of losing something like $15 million.

Constitution Week

It was not long ago that Governor Victor Anderson proclaimed Constitution Week setting September 17-23 as the period for Nebraska observance. That happens to be next week and suggests the rather personal question of what most are doing about it?

It is easy to take a constitution for granted unless it is a very bad one. Then the oppressions and inadequacies are on one's mind all the time. But that is not the case with the Constitution of the United States. From the outset it was a tremendous human document, the envy of the world, and a torch that has kept the path brightly lighted, leading always to a happier and more just way of living. It was based on a simple premise—the superiority of human interests, based on the conviction that people are inherently good, dependable and constructive. Whenever the nation strays from that principle things begin to work badly. When it adheres the reverse develops.

The constitution is something that should be celebrated every day if only to review some of its blessings. For instance judge this country if one spoke one's mind only at the peril of his security, if one read only that which was deemed good for him, if one could not be represented in government, but obeyed whoever said he was chief with enough force to back it up, if one's only chances for any kind of success depended upon political service and the whim of a superior. With a little reflection on such disagreeable subjects we imagine the best of all aims would be to have a good constitution to celebrate.

Trying Task

The West is receiving small comfort from the responses of Arab and Asian countries to Col. Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal in the name of Egypt.

In Lincoln lately official visitors from Pakistan said the people of their country are sympathetic to Nasser. Shankar's Weekly of New Delhi, India, had little good to say of Great Britain and France.

There is a revelation in this surge of sympathy for Egypt that tells a formidable story about colonialism. Whatever it may have been, good or bad, there is one thing certain. Most of the colonials blame it for their hardship. The right or wrong of the Suez grab is not too material to the ex-colonies. It is the fact that Egypt is standing up to two great colonial forces.

Certainly the most monumental task for U.S. statecraft is to liquidate the prejudice, at least insofar as itself is concerned, in the colonial sphere. The job is made double difficult because of our natural associations. A proper role seems to be neither that of denouncing our allies Britain and France or throwing weight against former colonies but acting as a bridge between the two.

No Evidence Nasser Ever West's Friend

NAHARIA, Galilee — In this part of the world where passions run as deep as the wells which search for water in desert sands, the biggest puzzle in the minds of diplomats, including Americans, is how the U.S. State Department got sucked into believing that Gamal Abdel Nasser was the great pal of the U.S.A.

Certainly, until six months ago, this was the contention of Hank Byroade, the svelte, usually able U.S. ambassador to Egypt, and of Loy Henderson, the deputy under-secretary detailed to argue with Nasser in Cairo, and of Herbert Hoover Jr., his superior, and of John Foster Dulles, the superior of all three.

They believed that Colonel Nasser was a trusted friend of the United States, pushed at times by Egyptian extremists toward Russia to be sure, but devoutly anxious to lift up the disease-torn masses of Egypt and line up his country with the West. Dulles, Henderson, Hoover, Byroade, et al, not only believed this but were so firmly convinced that they painstakingly and patiently tried to sell the idea to the British. They were even hurt, puzzled and irritated when the British refused 100 per cent to believe.

ENGLAND'S SPLIT POLICY

To some extent the British did believe; but their belief resulted not so much from American persuasion but from the split policy of the British Foreign Office which always plays part of the empire's poker chips on the Arabs, part on the non-Arabs in the Middle East.

The British knew, at least in a general sort of way, that while Colonel Nasser was sweet-talking them, his agents were undermining the empire all over Africa and Asia. They were stirring up trouble in British Somaliland, inciting revolt in Tanganyika, contriving to get Glubb Pasha kicked out of Jordan as head of the Arab Legion, trying to woo King Saud of Saudi Arabia away from the West and sabotaging the defense alliance with pro-British Iraq.

All this time the handsome and charming Gamal Abdel Nasser was talking big about helping the downtrodden Egyptian people, about putting across the Eric Johnston agreement for irrigating the river Jordan, and about his general friendship with the West.

U.S. DIPLOMATS CAN'T SEE

On Oct. 14, 1955, almost a year ago, the Cairo radio proclaimed: "Justice and logic require that we now defend Russia and attack America, which has shown falsehood, deceit and ill-will."

On Oct. 2, 1955 Al-Ahram, the Cairo daily, proclaimed: "America with all its millions and billions cannot win the heart of Egypt with diseased Point 4 chicks . . . Nor can American win the heart of Egypt with cheese, condensed milk, etc., which we know she is interested in getting rid of. America cannot win the heart of Egyptians with her worthless colored posters in which she attacks Communism while she herself is not a Democratic country."

On Oct. 11, 1955, also a year ago, the Cairo radio proclaimed: "American weapons provide the basic channel for the penetration of American influence. The Americans, therefore, invented what they called the Mutual Security pact. They offer it to miserable nations forced by circumstances to arm, and they innocently say to them: 'All you have to do is sign this pact and American weapons will pour into your country without costing you a single cent.'"

On Dec. 13, 1955, Cairo radio proclaimed: "In Turkey there is backwardness which has been made more so through American aid . . . Where is the prosperity enjoyed by Turkey after having received dozens of millions from its friend, the United States?"

BOB CONSIDINE

Ike Gives GOP Campaign Theme

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — Republican leaders devoured enough free fried chicken, ham, baked beans, potato salad and ice cream at Ike's farm the other day—at the pep rally—to feed all of Gen. Pickett's men before the charge they made across these hallowed fields 93 years ago.

It was like an old Currier and Ives print of a farm picnic which might have been captioned "Plenty." The loudspeakers bayed pleasant chants. The Black Angus stood like picture cattle in their neighboring pasture, and the vigorous 65-year-old President, called by Len Hall "the greatest living citizen of the modern world," stood beaming from a flag-draped rostrum. He won an ovation by saying, with brimming confidence, "I feel fine!"

But the whole mood of the fine show was, "Watch out! This is too good to last, unless we get out and work like the dickens."

The theme of the GOP campaign, if this kick-off party is a criterion, will be roughly this:

1.—Peace, progress, prosperity, full employment and other current "plus" factors of the American scene can be maintained only by Ike's reelection.

2.—The country will enter into an even greater era, under the Party of the Future, if voters elect a GOP congress and a majority of governors.

3.—Ike, and the "team," will lose—with perhaps appalling results here and abroad—unless all Republicans register and vote and each becomes a missionary bent on converting Independents, non-voters and "discerning Democrats."

There were, of course, voices of vibrant optimism. A bald man named Charles K. McWhorter, head of the Young Republicans, spoke of victory in November through the combined efforts of other youths like himself. Morton H. Hollingsworth, of Illinois, threatened a dire political end for Adlai Stevenson in the nominee's state and others.

But the President took his mood from Mrs. Dorothy Houghton, co-chairman of the National Citizens for Eisenhower. Mrs. Houghton's general theme was that it's going to be one heck of a fight this time. "Remember the Maine," she cried, then added, "We could well have that as our slogan today. Remember the Maine as of Monday, where the stay-at-home vote got out and the Independent vote put in those Democrats." The President said that a lesson could be drawn from what happened in Maine, where re-elected a Democratic governor and sent to Congress its first Democrat since 1934.

son found the body of Leif Erickson, 12, in the ditch about 3 1/2 miles east of the mission, an institution for epileptic, spastic and feeble-minded children.

The sheriff said the boy was last seen late Monday on a bridge spanning the irrigation ditch near the mission. Olson said he believed the boy had fallen in the ditch at the mission and that his body had floated down stream.

More than 250 men and boys from Holdrege, Wilcox, Axtell and Minden, and three Nebraska Safety Patrol planes, had taken part in the search for the boy Wednesday.

Thursday morning, before organizing a new searching party, the sheriff had gone out by himself and spotted the boy's shirt caught on a reinforcing wire protruding from concrete at a point where the road crossed the ditch.

The boy, whose parents live in Racine, Wis., had been at the mission since 1949.

Dakota Expecting Light Rain

Light rain is expected Friday in South Dakota with scattered thundershowers slated for the Ohio Valley and in New England. It will continue warm along the east coast. Skies will be clear and sunny along the west coast. Elsewhere in the nation skies will be cloudy. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Melvin Struve, Active Deshler Leader, Dies

Lincoln Star Special
DESHLER, Neb. — Funeral services for Melvin Struve, 49, secretary and personnel manager of the Deshler Broom Factory and prominent civic leader, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at St. Peter's Lutheran Church here.

He died in a Concordia, Kan., hospital following a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been hospitalized for the past two weeks with encephalitis, but was believed recovering when he was fatally stricken.

Mr. Struve, a lifetime resident of this community, was leader of the Deshler Band and secretary of the Lions Club. His father, H. C. Struve, is president of the broom factory.

Surviving are his wife, Gertrude; one daughter, Sharon; one son, Roy; his father and three brothers, Victor of Deshler, Dr. Edgar Struve, living in California, and Harry of Iowa.

Lincoln, Adams Pastors Received Into Presbytery

FAIRBURY, Neb. — More than 60 persons attended the fall meeting of the Presbytery of Nebraska City, official body of Presbyterian churches in southeastern Nebraska, held at the Fairbury Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Ellis Butler, new pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Lincoln and the Rev. Mr. Hoewig, who has been called to the Adams pastorate, were officially received into the Presbytery.

The Rev. Thomas Huxtable of Eastbridge Church in Lincoln, the Rev. E. A. Ahrens of Steele City and Glenn Chapman of Beatrice reported on last spring's general assembly.

The Rev. Clavin Knock of Tecumseh, moderator, presided. The group voted approval of the proposed union of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and the United Presbyterian Church, now being voted on by presbyteries in both denominations.

Electric Power Sale Declared Best Income Source For Dam

MITCHELL, S. D. — The payoff time is high for Missouri River dams and more wintertime power is a method of footing the bill, a speaker before the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency Committee said here Thursday.

Joe W. Grimes, South Dakota water resources engineer, said revenues from the sale of electric power is the chief source of income for payment of the federal investment in the facilities.

Grimes said he was not advocating operation of the Missouri Basin facilities for maximum power production because the dams are multiple purpose. Such operation would be at the expense of navigation downstream.

However, he said he believed the maximum income producing wintertime energy base can and will be raised by providing carry-over storage in the reservoirs for that purpose as soon as possible. John R. Walker, regional supervisor of power for the Bureau of Reclamation, said that by next spring all the bureau facilities contemplated for the marketing of allocated firm power are expected to be ready.

Because of the low water, prospects for next year are none too good, Walker said. "We are not in a position to say what if any new customers we can pick up next year." The firm power so far allocated is in general sufficient to carry preference-type power systems in the Dakotas and northern Minnesota through 1958, he said.

State Taxes Almost Doubled In 9 Years—Sorrell

NFO Favors 100 Pct. Parity; Ton Mile Tax Plan Is Opposed

Lincoln Star Special
HARTINGTON, Neb. — Taxes on real estate and personal property have practically doubled in the last nine years, Frank Sorrell of Syracuse, Democratic candidate for governor, told a regional convention of the National Farm Organization here Thursday.

Sorrell placed the blame on the Republican administration which has been in control of state government for 16 years. He pointed to the fact that governors have gone to Washington and spoken in favor of bills that were to the detriment of the state rather than to fight for Nebraska.

"State government spending in 1947-48 was but slightly in excess of $61,000,000 while in 1955-56 they had soared to $112,000,000," Sorrell told the assembled farmers.

Levy Hike Cited
He also pointed out that the mill levy had increased from 5.26 mills in 1946-49 to 8.18 mills in 1955-56 an increase of more than 36 per cent.

"This," he said, "was with the full knowledge of the drop in farm income as a result of flexible farm price supports."

Meanwhile, the NFO members of the third regional district passed a resolution demanding 100 per cent parity prices for farm products.

'Caught In Squeeze'

The resolution said the group recognizes that the farmer is "caught in a price squeeze" and while "we have no fault to find with the minimum price labor law of $1 per hour which has been set by the government" the group feels that farmers are entitled to the same consideration.

It declared a minimum price for floor, should be fixed on farm commodities that cannot be stored, especially on cattle, hogs and all other livestock. It added "we are opposed to any subsidies being paid processors of beef, pork and livestock products as well as subsidies paid the farmer in order for him to obtain parity for livestock."

"If a minimum price per hour can be fixed for labor, certainly a price law can be legislated for all meat products," the resolution said.

Taxation Change Urged
The organization went on record as opposed to the ton mile tax to be voted on in November and favoring a change in the grain taxation basis from a bushel value base to a mill levy.

In other resolutions the group opposed all imports in competition to U.S. farm products, endorsed adequate emergency farm credit, urged state control of "big corporation farmers," and urged establishment of an office in Lincoln.

Hoppe Elected
Arlo Hoppe, Schuyler, was named regional chairman. Vera Glimer, Pender, and Clarence Frenzen, Fullerton, vice chairman; Bill Philbert, Ponca, secretary; and Hilary Hosking, Hartington, treasurer.

This regional NFO group in the Third Congressional District is also expected to lend support to the campaign of Democrat Lawrence Brock of Wakefield who is opposing Rep. Robert Harrison, Republican, for the Congressional post.

Both Brock and Harrison addressed the group. Other speakers included Ed Glenn of Louisiana, Mo., national NFO director; Pat Grant, house of Chicago, vice president of the CIO-AFL Farm Equipment Workers Union; and Oren Staley of Corning, Ia., national NFO president.

Lt. Buglewicz Is Fired From Police Duties

OMAHA — Lt. Frank Buglewicz, a central figure in the Omaha traffic ticket dismissal investigation, was fired from the Police Department Thursday.

Patrolman Joseph Volkir, a traffic bureau clerk, was suspended from the department for six months.

Sgt. Jack Elias, a desk officer, was given a three-month suspension.

Chief Harry Green found each man guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer.

They had been charged with accepting money to handle tickets which were dismissed by Municipal Judge Patrick O'Connor.

Theodore Richling, the lieutenant's attorney, said Chief Green's action would be appealed to the Civil Service Commission.

All through his hearing, Buglewicz had refused on Richling's advice to answer questions.

Bjorklund Re-Elected Fire Chief At Minden

MINDEN, Neb. — Ray Bjorklund was re-elected Minden's fire chief, starting his ninth year in the post.

Other officers include Robert Madsen, president; Al Stenson, vice president; and William Ahrens, secretary-treasurer.

Services Friday For Mrs. Slawson

ARCADIA, Neb. — Funeral services for Mrs. Lillie Mae Slawson, 69, lifelong resident of Arcadia, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Congregational Church here.

Surviving are her husband, William; one son, Curtis of Golden Dale, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson of Great Falls, Mont., and Mrs. Marjorie Frons of Seattle, Wash.; five grandchildren, two brothers and three sisters.

New Ordinance

HASTINGS, Neb. — The Hastings City Council passed an ordinance making it unlawful to discharge waste water or liquid from air conditioners or refrigeration units upon city streets, and requiring disposal through a sewer system.

North Platte Tax Levy Is Lowered

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. — County commissioners cut the over-all tax levy for the city of North Platte by 7.18 mills to 57.56.

The commissioners cut $39,000 from the proposed city school budget because, they said, the school system had too large a reserve fund.

State Taxes Almost Doubled In 9 Years—Sorrell

NFO Favors 100 Pct. Parity; Ton Mile Tax Plan Is Opposed

Lincoln Star Special
HARTINGTON, Neb. — Taxes on real estate and personal property have practically doubled in the last nine years, Frank Sorrell of Syracuse, Democratic candidate for governor, told a regional convention of the National Farm Organization here Thursday.

Sorrell placed the blame on the Republican administration which has been in control of state government for 16 years. He pointed to stored, especially on cattle, hogs and all other livestock. It added "we are opposed to any subsidies being paid processors of beef, pork and livestock products as well as subsidies paid the farmer in order for him to obtain parity for livestock."

"If a minimum price per hour can be fixed for labor, certainly a price law can be legislated for all meat products," the resolution said.

Taxation Change Urged

The organization went on record as opposed to the ton mile tax to be voted on in November and favoring a change in the grain taxation basis from a bushel value base to a mill levy.

In other resolutions the group opposed all imports in competition to U.S. farm products, endorsed adequate emergency farm credit, urged state control of "big corporation farmers," and urged establishment of an office in Lincoln.

Hoppe Elected

Arlo Hoppe, Schuyler, was named regional chairman; Vern Climer, Pender, and Clarence Fronzen, Fullerton, vice chairmen; Bill Philzerzani, Ponca, secretary, and Hilary Hoising, Hartington, treasurer.

This regional NFO group in the Third Congressional District is also expected to lend support to the campaign of Democrat Lawrence Brock of Wakefield who is opposing Rep. Robert Harrison, Republican, for the Congressional post.

Both Brock and Harrison addressed the group. Other speakers included Ed Glenn of Louisiana, Mo., national NFO director; Pat Great-house of Chicago, vice president of the CIO-AFL Farm Equipment Workers Union; and Oren Staley of Corning, Ia., national NFO president.

the fact that governors have gone to Washington and spoken in favor of bills that were to the detriment of the state rather than to fight for Nebraska.

"State government spending in 1947-48 were but slightly in excess of $61,000,000 while in 1955-56 they had soared to $112,000,000," Sorrell told the assembled farmers.

Levy Hike Cited

He also pointed out that the mill levy had increased from 5.26 mills in 1948-49 to 8.18 mills in 1955-56 an increase of more than 36 per cent.

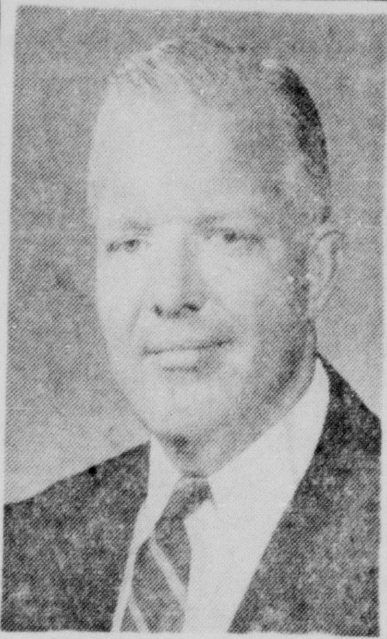

"This," he said, "was with the full knowledge of the drop in farm income as a result of flexible farm price supports."

Meanwhile, the NFO members of the third regional district passed a resolution demanding 100 per cent parity prices for farm products.

'Caught In Squeeze'

The resolution said the group recognizes that the farmer is "caught in a price squeeze" and while "we have no fault to find with the minimum price labor law of $1 per hour which has been set by the government" the group feels that farmers are entitled to the same consideration.

It declared a minimum price, or floor, should be fixed on farm commodities that cannot be

—See Comparisons With Meat, Milk, Fish, Eggs And Other Foods

Your big problem in child nutrition is to get them to eat enough of the substantial foods they must have for normal physical and mental development.

Which means a well-balanced diet of protein, fat, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, such as come in meats, milk, eggs, fruit, green-leafed and yellow vegetables.

And Wonder Bread, which helps supply your child with protein for growth, carbohydrates for energy and many vitamins and minerals for normal development.

12 Ways To Growth

Wonder Bread contains 12 essential food elements that help your child grow normally.

The amounts of these 12 food elements in Wonder Bread are compared with similar amounts contained in other foods.

This does not suggest that Wonder Bread take the place of these other foods. Or that your child is deficient in any of these elements, particularly cobalt, copper, zinc and manganese.

However, the fact is Wonder Bread does contain each of the 12 food elements approximately in the amounts shown.

And, as leading nutrition specialists have pointed out, each one of the 12 is important in nutrition.

Thus, when you give Wonder Bread to your child, you know you are helping your child grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

This suggests that you do 3 things:

(1) Start your child eating 8 slices of Wonder Bread today.

(2) Measure your child's height and weigh him today.

(3) See how height and weight increase in 3 months; 6 months; each year.

Fresh And Tender

You should have no trouble getting your child to eat plenty of Wonder Bread.

BAKING WITH DUNCAN HINES IS FUN!

Mix this Fudge Pudding Cake just before dinner . . . serve it warm

THIS RECIPE SOUNDS INCREDIBLE, BUT TRY IT:

1. In an oblong pan, 13 x 9 x 2 inches, mix 1 cup brown sugar and ½ cup cocoa. Then stir in 2 cups water—yes, water, until well blended.

2. Now snip 12 marshmallows into quarters, and scatter over this mixture.

3. Spoon over this, Duncan Hines Devil's Food Cake batter. There'll be rich pudding under the cake; marshmallows will blend, some rise to top. Top with 1 cup broken nuts. Bake at 350° for 45 to 50 minutes. Have the bowl of whipped cream handy!

P. 5. Most glass baking dishes come in 12 x 8-inch size. For this, use about ¾ of cake batter (bake the rest as cupcakes)—and set your oven at 325°. Don't worry about leftovers—this wonderful cake is just as good cold.

Don't waste that wonderful cake's-in-the-oven smell! It sets tastes a quiver for this delicious Devil's Food Mix cake

"One of the best parts of baking a cake is the warm, appetite-tingling aroma that fills the kitchen—don't you agree? To capture that pleasure for all your family to enjoy, I'm passing along a recipe that I'm sure will become a 'specialty of the house'—a nut-topped cake that bakes with rich fudge pudding on the bottom.

"The cake itself takes just a few minutes to stir up before dinner. And I'll tell you a secret. The rich, dark-chocolate fragrance that comes from your oven as it bakes comes from the special blend of cocoa in our Devil's Food Mix. Chocolate flavor, like coffee, varies with the bean—and we use the blend that gives the richest flavor and red-brown color to the cake.

"When dessert time comes, you'll be sharing a double pleasure with all at your table—the smell and the taste of the oven-warm concoction that's somewhere between cake and pudding. I hope you will try it soon."

Charges Of Gangster Influence Explode In Senate Investigation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Charges of gangster influence in the Senate investigation of the Teamsters Union Local No. 475 in New York City exploded Thursday into a Senate investigation.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the Senate investigation committee, announced he has assigned two top lieutenants to the inquiry. Council Robert F. Kennedy said the subcommittee has subpoenaed "virtually all of the union's records."

Kennedy said one objective is to learn whether a mysterious "Johnny D." reportedly named in the subpoenaed records, is Johnny D. the New York gangster now awaiting trial in connection with the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The subcommittee has had a continuing interest in D. and other hoodlums since it questioned a behind closed doors last year, Kennedy said.

McClellan described the inquiry as fitting into the subcommittee's search for evidence of graft and underworld influence in the making of contracts for the purchase of military uniforms.

Kennedy said the subcommittee has been exploring charges that racketeers have quietly obtained subcontracts to work on uniforms for the military. He said the subcommittee is organizing by various means the transporting of goods.

Charges Of Gangster Influence Explode In Senate Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charges of gangster influence in the strifetorn Teamsters Union Local No. 445 in Yonkers, N. Y., exploded Thursday into a Senate investigation.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, announced he has assigned two top sleuths to the inquiry. Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the subcommittee has subpoenaed "virtually" all of the union's records.

Kennedy said one objective is to learn whether a mysterious "Johnny D." reportedly named in the subpoenaed records, is Johnny Dio, the New York gangster now awaiting trial in connection with the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The subcommittee has had "a continuing interest" in Dio and other hoodlums since it questioned him behind closed doors last year, Kennedy said.

McClellan described the inquiry into the Teamsters Union affairs as fitting into the subcommittee's search for evidence of graft and underworld influence in the making of contracts for the purchase of military uniforms.

Kennedy said the subcommittee has been exploring charges that racketeers have quietly obtained subcontracts to work on uniforms in cut-rate nonunion garment shops which they kept free from union organizing by various devices.

The transporting of goods, materials and finished products is a large item in contracts for the manufacture of the uniforms.

Control An Issue

The development is a sequel to seizure of the union's records by an insurgent faction which describes itself as a "Clean Union" group. The issue of control over the local is now in the New York State courts.

McClellan has said he expects the Senate investigation, which may extend through most of another year, will show that gangsters have muscled into some firms which obtained contracts from the armed forces, and that they then engineered a lot of shady work on the contracts.

He had conducted public and closed-door hearings off and on through most of this year. He refrained from calling Dio, whose real name is Dioguardi, for public questioning after quizzing him behind closed doors, lest this might prejudice the investigation of the Riesel acid throwing case. Riesel was blinded in an alleged effort to stop him from testifying before a grand jury about labor racketeering.

Funeral Saturday For Mrs. Ketterer

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Ketterer, 69, of 6605 Ballard, will be 9:30 a.m. Saturday at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. The Rev. Norbert Schmalz will officiate. Burial will be in Calvary. Rosary will be said 8 p.m. Friday at Hodgman-Splain.

Mrs. Ketterer died Thursday. Born at Falls City, Neb., she had been a Lincoln resident for 40 years and was a member of St. Patrick's Parish.

She was the widow of Alois Ketterer, who died 13 years ago.

Surviving are her daughters, Eva Ketterer of Brooklyn, N.Y., Mrs. Alice Mills, Mrs. Frances Gammon, Mrs. Genevieve Enright, Mrs. Marjorie Kopf, Mrs. Rose Donahoo and Betty Mae Ketterer, all of Lincoln; sons, Alois, Alfred and Arlen, all of Lincoln; brothers, Tobias Sontag of Oklahoma and Alfred Sontag of Kansas; sisters, Mrs. Anna Shellenberg, Mrs. Katherine Jordan, and Mrs. Ida Maxwell, all of Oklahoma; Mrs. Dora Mitchen, Mrs. Mary Cook, both of Kansas; and Mrs. Rose Brown of Waverly, Kan., and 12 grandchildren.

1,000 Attending Catholic Youth Congress

More than 1,000 youths are attending the sixteenth annual Catholic Youth Organization congress of the Lincoln Diocese which opened Thursday in Lincoln.

The Rev. Richard Madden, O.C.D., who is director of vocations for the Carmelite Fathers at Milwaukee, Wis., was the speaker at an evening banquet. He told the youths they have three choices after they finish school: to get married, remain unmarried, or join a convent or seminary.

"Whichever you choose," he said, "it is worthwhile." But he cautioned that each has its difficulties and problems. He urged the youths to be aware of the obligations and responsibilities they must soon undertake.

'Reach Around World'
Fr. Madden said if all the persons in the world who have never heard of God were lined up the line would reach around the world 17 times.

In an afternoon speech, Fr. Madden said "Today, Godless influences are running roughshod throughout the world. They are crippling the minds of adults, they are brainwashing the minds of youth and youth must grow big enough to withstand them."

He urged the youths to "never forget that God made an imperfect world deliberately so that each of their purity and goodness might add their finest touch to His great masterpiece."

'Leads Boy, Girl'
Another speaker, the Rev. Terence Stanton, O.S.B., of Marmon Military Academy, Aurora, Ill., discussed the purposes of the CYO.

"The CYO is not only a social organization," he said, "it first leads a boy or girl to a personal knowledge of Christ, through the sacramental life of the church and the gospels, then it expresses the things learned in its social activities."

He said the "power of CYO" is "to give a young boy or girl the ability to act with the heart and mind of Christ in every sphere of teen-age activity."

Capt. Philip Hamilton, a Lincoln Air Force Base chaplain, also spoke to the group. "The world," he said, "is full of genius with technical know-how, from lawyers to physical scientists who can make planes that fly faster than sound, bombs that can kill people by the millions, but because so many of the same to not have moral know-why, you young people must look forward to the constant fear of sudden annihilation from the skies."

Moral Know-Why
Capt. Hamilton defined moral know-why as: (1) "a motivating knowledge of God that He is all good, that because He is all good that it is of my very nature in the words of Christ to live Him with my whole mind, heart and soul," and (2) "a motivating knowledge of man—that he is created to the image and likeness of God possessing the value of Christ's blood through the redemption, so lived by God and the Father that 'He gave His only begotten son' and so lived by the Son that the same Son was obedient to the death of the cross, and for the love of God to be so loved in turn by each of us as a neighbor to the degree that we love ourselves."

Friday's program includes addresses by Fr. Stanton at 10 a.m., by Fr. Madden at 10:20 a.m. and election of the diocesan youth council at 10:45 a.m., all at the Cornhusker Hotel. The Rev. Msgr. G. J. Schuster is diocesan CYO director.

Verdict Favors Realtors In Case Over Commission

Lincoln Star Special

HEBRON, Neb.—A Thayer County District Court jury brought in a verdict in favor of plaintiffs Svoboda & Son and against defendant R. O. Dewald in a case involving the amount of a real estate broker's commission.

Real estate brokers and auctioneers Svoboda & Son of Hebron were awarded a verdict of $4,450.97 as their commission for the sale of a quarter section of Jefferson County real estate. The farm sold for $23,150.00.

The defendant, R. O. Dewald of Alexandria, Neb., maintained that the brokers had agreed to sell the farm for a commission of 2%. Svoboda & Son claimed that they were entitled to a commission plus all the farm brought over $20,000.

The defendant has announced that he will file a motion for a new trial, and, if necessary, will appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

Cypriot Slain By Masked Gunmen

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two masked gunmen shot up a coffee shop Thursday, killing one Greek Cypriot and wounding four other men.

The shooting took place in the village of Triko, near the east coast.

The shooting followed the recent pattern of reprisal slayings by EOKA—fighting arm of the group seeking union of this British island with Greece—against fellow countrymen whom the underground has marked as traitors.

The killing raised to 153 the total deaths since the start of the EOKA campaign of violence 18 months ago, including 52 Britons, 84 Greek Cypriots, and 12 Turkish Cypriots.

Verdict Favors Realtors In Case Over Commission

Lincoln Star Special

HEBRON, Neb.—A Thayer County District Court jury brought in a verdict in favor of plaintiffs Svoboda & Son and against defendant R. O. Dewald in a case involving the amount of a real estate broker's commission.

Real estate brokers and auctioneers Svoboda & Son of Hebron were awarded a verdict of $4,450.97 as their commission for the sale of a quarter section of Jefferson County real estate. The farm sold for $23,150.00.

The defendant, R. O. Dewald of Alexandria, Neb., maintained that the brokers had agreed to sell the farm for a commission of 2%. Svoboda & Son claimed that they were entitled to a commission plus all the farm brought over $20,000.

The defendant has announced that he will file a motion for a new trial, and, if necessary, will appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

Cypriot Slain By Masked Gunmen

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two masked gunmen shot up a coffee shop Thursday, killing one Greek Cypriot and wounding four other men.

The shooting took place in the village of Triko, near the east coast.

The shooting followed the recent pattern of reprisal slayings by EOKA—fighting arm of the group seeking union of this British Island with Greece—against fellow countrymen whom the underground has marked as traitors.

The killing raised to 153 the total deaths since the start of the EOKA campaign of violence 18 months ago, including 52 Britons, 84 Greek Cypriots, and 12 Turkish Cypriots.

PTA Holds Annual Workshops

A highlight of the annual School of Instruction, sponsored by the Lincoln Council of Parents and Teachers on Thursday afternoon was the afternoon session of workshops for officers and chairmen of the more than 30 PTA units in the city.

The day-long meeting opened

Thursday morning with Mrs. Howard Deems, council president presiding and included talks by Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of Lincoln Schools, and Warren H. Parker, president of the Board of Education.

the council, is presiding at the workshop for council delegates who include (clockwise) Mrs. Neal Hadsell, Mrs. Ed Moss, Mrs. Groth, Mrs. Don Reardon, Mrs. Marvin Schellpeper, Mrs. John Hobbs, Mrs. Don Mock, Mrs. Jack Critchfield and Mrs. James Orr.

Another PTA workshop of interest on Thursday afternoon was the group discussion attended by the local unit's legislative chairmen, who work during the year to coordinate PTA members in promoting laws favorable to the schools.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. P. S. Carter of Omaha (at

right) Mrs. O. R. Zemke, Mrs. Howard Hawley, Mrs. Frank Andrus and Mrs. Faye Best.

The afternoon program also included workshops for treasurers and budget chairmen, program, publicity and publications, unit presidents, membership, health, civil defense, character education, safety and recreation chairmen.

DAR District Meeting

The annual fall meeting of District 6 of the Nebraska Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held in Lincoln on Saturday and will open with registration at 10 o'clock in the morning, at the Lincoln Hotel.

Mrs. H. L. Blackledge of Kearney, state regent will preside at the one-day meeting which will include a morning session, luncheon, and afternoon workshops. Assisting Mrs. Blackledge will be other state officers of the society.

Greeting the members and delegates will be regents of the hostess chapters: Mrs. Joel E. McLaughlin, Deborah Avery Chapter, Lincoln; Mrs. J. E. Bartlett, St. Lawrence Chapter, Lincoln; and Miss Margaret Thomas, Lincoln.

NCO Wives To Entertain

The NCO Wives Club of the Lincoln Air Force Base will entertain at a coffee Thursday afternoon Sept. 20 honoring Mrs. Henry C. Godman, wife of the new base commander. All non-commissioned officers' wives are invited to attend the coffee between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock at the Lindell Hotel's Knicker Kettle.

The club also is planning a social meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the NCO Club on the base. All members with birthdays in June, July, August and September will be honored and the evening hours will be spent with cards.

of Winmore, Elizabeth Montague Chapter of Beatrice Reservations chairman will be Mrs. E. G. Gallen 4926 Walker, Lincoln.

State officers, in addition to Mrs. Blackledge are Mrs. Folsom Gates, Gordon, vice regent; Mrs. Harold L. Zimmet, David City, chaplain; Mrs. A. O. Fassel, Fremont, historian; Mrs. Grant Ackerman, Lincoln, librarian; Mrs. Dave Ablowich, Grand Island, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Ferguson, McCook, treasurer; and Mrs. Herbert H. Selleck, Alliance, registrar.

Other district meetings of the Nebraska DAR are scheduled as follows: District 1, Monday, Sept. 17, at Omaha District 8, Tuesday, Sept. 18, at Auburn District 4, Wednesday, Sept. 19, at Fairmont District 7, Thursday, Sept. 20, at Loup City District 5, Friday, Sept. 21, at Lexington and District 2, Saturday, Sept. 22, at Scottsbluff. The meeting of District 1 was held Thursday at Wayne.

ESA Chapter Has Meeting

Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha held its first meeting Monday evening, at the home of Miss Betty Terrey. During the business meeting the members planned their activity schedule for the coming year.

New rushers are Miss Jayne Smith, Miss Judy Dixon, Miss Carol Schell, Miss Karen Linn, Miss Norma Drake and Miss Dolores Kozesek.

Town Talk

WITH everything taken into consideration, it looks like it's going to be a nice September week end—nothing dramatic or even spectacular on the approaching social horizon—but there is news of interest.

ALL travelers have something in common—they all must return home sometime or another. On our homecoming list this morning are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jovenat and their daughter, Miss Sue Jovenat who have returned after spending several weeks at Tucson, Ariz., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. S. and son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weber and Mr. Webster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Webster.

WE also want to tell you that Miss Ann Seebins daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stebbins, is en route to Northampton, Mass., where she will resume her studies this fall at Smith College.

ALSO leaving Lincoln to resume her studies will be Miss Jacqueline Mowbray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mowbray, who will depart from Omaha by plane on Sunday for Ojai, Calif., where she is a student at Ojai Valley School.

Miss Mowbray will be honored at a family dinner Friday evening at the Lincoln Country Club and will share honors with her grandfather, W. R. Mowbray of Long Beach, Calif., who is visiting in Lincoln as the guest of his sons and daughters in law. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mowbray and Mr. and Mrs. William Mowbray.

AND off for Wellesley, Mass., next week to begin her senior year at Wellesley College will be Miss Nancy Aiken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Aiken, who only recently returned to Lincoln after a summer of traveling in Europe.

WE must tell you about the brides elect in the news this morning in courtesy to their daughter, Miss Virginia Ann Noble, and her fiancé, Ronald Steen, whose marriage will be an event of Saturday, Sept. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Noble will entertain at a pre-nuptial dinner this evening at the University Club. Included among the 18 guests will be Mr. Steen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Steen, his brother, Bill Steen, and Mrs. Steen, and Ralph Yunker, all of Mokena, Ill., who will arrive in Lincoln on Friday.

AND family members and out of town guests arriving in Lincoln today to attend the wedding of Miss Nancy Swanson and Roger von Gillern on Saturday, Sept. 17, will be the bridegroom's sister's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil von Gillern, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Pettit and Mrs. Bert Grashof, all of Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. von Gillern, Jr., Waterloo, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rock, Blencoe, Ia., Jack Troop, Plattsmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lennon, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Briggs and Mrs. Eugene Kelly, Sioux City, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mahaffie and daughter, Georgia, North Platte, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Claussen, Houston, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Woolsey Davis, Nebraska City, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Eklund, Osceola, Mo., and Mrs. Thomas Huntington Benedict and Mrs. Guy Heilmann, Cambridge.

A BRIGHT spot in the news this morning is the announcement of the arrival of William Frank Norris, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Norris of Columbus, Miss., who was born on Saturday, Sept. 9. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Norris. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Norris and their small son will be arriving in Lincoln early in October to make their home at 1636 Arapahoe.

Names Officers

The Hillcrest Women's Golf Association concluded its season's activities at a banquet and election of officers at Hillcrest Country Club last Tuesday evening.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Going back to school always is an exciting event in the lives of the very young, and especially so if you happen to be a brand new kindergarten pupil.

To celebrate the big event and to provide an opportunity for their playmates to snow off their "dress up" school clothes, Miss

We are sorry to say that we spent the morning saying good-bye to several of our friends who have moved to South Hills but it also was fun to learn about the many fine well courtesies which have been extended to those residents who are leaving the community. In addition to the farewell parties, however, we learned of vacationers, houseguests, plus a bit of this and that which makes South Hills such an interesting neighborhood.

Mrs. R. G. Thorpe, Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. B. Rhodes and Capt. and Mrs. W. L. Ball.

Col. and Mrs. Kollman also will be honored guests on Sunday evening when Capt. and Mrs. Ball will be host and hostess to 18 guests at their home.

Also included among recent courtesies for the Kollmans was the dinner on Monday evening given by Lt. Col. and Mrs. J. B. Rhodes who entertained Com and Mrs. Miles, Com and Mrs. O'Neill, Com and Mrs. Thorne and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Flaherty at their home.

Home again in South Hills are Mr. and Mrs. Emory Conrod and their children, Kathleen, Kim and James, who have been vacationing at Denver, Colorado Springs and Estes Park, Colo. While in Denver, the Conrods were the guests of Mrs. Conrod's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Brum, and their youngsters, Michael, Therese Ann and Debra.

South Hills residents who will leave Lincoln on Tuesday are Capt. and Mrs. Robert Dicus and their daughter, Rona, who will go to Waco, Tex., to make

In farewell courtesies to Mrs. Dicus on Tuesday, Mrs. Merin Rice and Mrs. Robert Gould were co-hostesses at a morning coffee held at the home of Mrs. Gould. The guests included Mrs. Ronald Brum, Mrs. Tom Dusenbach, Mrs. Russell Woodrum, Mrs. Douglas Tiffin, Mrs. Charles Hammer, Mrs. Robert Culwell, Mrs. Bernard Morgan, Mrs. Daniel Rogers, Mrs. Waldo Peck and Mrs. Maurice Alvord.

We heard that Dr. Frank Puerta, a former resident in South Hills, was visiting friends in Lincoln earlier this week. On Monday evening, Dr. Puerta, was honored guest at a party which Mrs. and Mrs. John F. Azzer and Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas were hosts and hostesses at the Steak House.

Earlier this summer, Dr. Puerta and his family moved to Fresno, Calif., to reside.

And entertaining houseguests on Friday will be Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, arriving from Manhattan, Kan., to spend the day in South Hills. They will be Mrs. Miller's sister, Mrs. Lerone Bolen and Mrs. Mae Rick.

Greeting the members and delegates will be regents of the hostess chapters, Mrs. Joel E. McCafferty, Deborah Avery Chapter, Lincoln; Mrs. J. E. Bartley, St. Leger Cowley Chapter, Lincoln; and Miss Margaret Thomas of Wymore, Elizabeth Montague Chapter of Beatrice. Reservations chairman will be Mrs. E. G. Gallen, 4926 Walker, Lincoln. State officers, in addition to Mrs. Blackledge, are Mrs. Folsom Gates, Gordon, vice regent; Mrs. Harold L. Zinnecker, David City, chaplain; Mrs. A. O. Fasser, Fremont, historian; Mrs. Grant Ackerman, Lincoln, librarian; Mrs. Dave Ablowich, Grand Island, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Ferguson, McCook, treasurer; and Mrs. Herbert H. Selleck, Alliance, registrar.

Other district meetings of the Nebraska DAR are scheduled as follows: District 3, Monday, Sept. 17, at Omaha; District 8, Tuesday, Sept. 18, at Auburn; District 4, Wednesday, Sept. 19, at Fairmont; District 7, Thursday, Sept. 20, at Loup City; District 5, Friday, Sept. 21, at Lexington; and District 2, Saturday, Sept. 22, at Scottsbluff. The meeting of District 1 was held Thursday at Wayne.

Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha held its first meeting Monday evening, at the home of Miss Betty Terrey. During the business meeting, the members planned their activity schedule for the coming year.

New rushees are Miss Jayne Smith, Miss Judy Dixon, Miss Carol Schell, Miss Karen Imm, Miss Norma Drake and Miss Delores Kozesek.

NCO Wives To Entertain

The NCO Wives Club of the Lincoln Air Force Base will entertain at a coffee Thursday afternoon, Sept. 20, honoring Mrs. Henry C. Godman, wife of the new base commander. All non-commissioned officers wives are invited to attend the coffee between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock, at the Lindell Hotel's Kopper Kettle.

The club also is planning a social meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the NCO Club on the base. All members with birthdays in June, July, August and September will be honored, and the evening hours will be spent with cards.

ESA Chapter Has Meeting

Town Talk

WITH everything taken into consideration, it looks like it's going to be a nice September week end—nothing dramatic or even spectacular on the approaching social horizon—but there is news of interest.

ALL travelers have something in common—they all must return home sometime or another. On our homecoming list this morning are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jovenat and their daughter, Miss Sue Jovenat, who have returned after spending several weeks at Tucson, Ariz., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jovenat's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webster, and Mr. Webster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Webster.

WE also want to tell you that Miss Ann Stebbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stebbins, is en route to Northampton, Mass., where she will resume her studies this fall at Smith College.

ALSO leaving Lincoln to resume her studies will be Miss Jacquelyn Mowbray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mowbray, who will depart from Omaha by plane on Sunday for Ojai, Calif., where she is a student at Ojai Valley School.

Miss Mowbray will be honored at a family dinner Friday evening at the Lincoln Country Club, and will share honors with her grandfather, W. R. Mowbray of Long Beach, Calif., who is visiting in Lincoln as the guest of his sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mowbray and Mr. and Mrs. Mowbray.

AND off for Wellesley, Mass., next week to begin her senior year at Wellesley College will be Miss Nancy Aitken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Aitken, who only recently returned to Lincoln after a summer of traveling in Europe.

WE must tell you about the brides-elect in the news this morning. In courtesy to their daughter, Miss Virginia Ann Noble, and her fiancé, Ronald Steen, whose marriage will be an event of Saturday, Sept. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Noble will entertain at a pre-nuptial dinner this evening at the University Club. Included among the 18 guests will be Mr. Steen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Steen, his brother, Bill Steen, and Mrs. Steen, and Ralph Yunker, all of Mokena, Ill., who will arrive in Lincoln on Friday.

AND family members and out of town guests arriving in Lincoln today to attend the wedding of Miss Nancy Swanson and Roger von Gillern on Saturday, Sept. 15, will be the bridegroom-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil von Gillern, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Petit and Mrs. Burt Grasborg, all of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. von Gillern, Jr., Waterloo, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rock, Blencoe, Ia.; Jack Troop, Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lennon, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Briggs and Mrs. Eugene Kelly, Sioux City, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mahaffie and daughter, Georgia, North Platte; Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Claussen, Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Woolsey Davis, Nebraska City; Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Eklund, Osceola; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrington, Benedict; and Mrs. Guy Heilman, Cambridge.

A BRIGHT spot in the news this morning is the announcement of the arrival of William Frank Norris, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Norris of Columbus, Miss., who was born on Saturday, Sept. 8. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Norris. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Norris and their small son will be arriving in Lincoln early in October to make their home at 1636 Arapahoe.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Going back to school always is an exciting event in the lives of the very young, and especially so if you happen to be a brand new kindergarten pupil.

To celebrate the big event and to provide an opportunity for her playmates to show off their "dress-up" school clothes, Miss

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Mrs. R. G. Thorpe, Lt. Com. and Mrs. J. B. Rhodes and Capt. and Mrs. W. L. Ball.

Col. and Mrs. Kollman also will be honored guests on Sunday evening when Capt. and Mrs. Ball will be host and hostess to 18 guests at their home.

Also included among recent courtesies for the Kollmans was the dinner on Monday evening given by Lt. Com. and Mrs. J. B. Rhodes who entertained Com. and Mrs. Miles, Com. and Mrs. O'Neill, Com. and Mrs. Thorpe and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Flaherty at their home.

Home again in South Hills are Mr. and Mrs. Emory Conrod and their children, Kathleen, Kim and Jamee, who have been vacationing at Denver, Colorado Springs and Estes Park, Colo. While in Denver, the Conrods were the guests of Mrs. Conrod's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Brim, and their youngsters, Michael, Therese Ann and Debra.

South Hills residents who will leave Lincoln next Tuesday are Capt. and Mrs. Robert Dacus and their daughter, Rona, who will go to Waco, Tex., to make their home.

In farewell courtesies to Mrs. Dacus on Thursday, Mrs. Merlin Rice and Mrs. Robert Gould were co-hostesses at a morning coffee held at the home of Mrs. Gould. The guests included Mrs. Ronald Brumbaugh, Mrs. Joe Dosenbach, Mrs. Russell Weedlum, Mrs. Douglas Tiffany, Mrs. Charles Hanner, Mrs. Robert Culwell, Mrs. Bernard Morgan, Mrs. Daniel Rogers, Mrs. Waldo Peck and Mrs. Maurice Alston.

We heard that Dr. Frank Puerta, a former resident in South Hills, was visiting friends in Lincoln earlier this week. On Monday evening, Dr. Puerta, was honored guest at a dinner for which Maj. and Mrs. John Frazer and Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Thoms were hosts and hostesses at the Steak House.

Earlier this summer, Dr. Puerta and his family moved to Fresno, Calif., to reside.

And entertaining houseguests on Friday will be Mr. and Mrs. Don Milther. Arriving from Manhattan, Kan., to spend the day in South Hills will be Mrs. Milther's aunts, Mrs. Lenore Bolen and Miss Mae Riek.

Russia Sends 'A New Disarmament Note'

Ike Handed Bulganin's Missive

WASHINGTON (INS) — Soviet Premier Bulganin sent another personal message to President Eisenhower Thursday in their exchange of correspondence on worldwide disarmament.

The letter, which was delivered to Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zorobin during a 10-minute meeting with Secretary of State Dulles, was an answer to Eisenhower's message to Bulganin of last Aug. 4.

Dulles telephoned the President at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa., to tell him of the Bulganin letter. The White House said the message had only received a "quick reading" at the time Mr. Eisenhower was notified of its receipt.

Russian Harvest 'Record'

Union News Says

MOSCOW (P) — The Soviet Union will have its largest grain harvest in history this year, the trade union organ News said Thursday.

"In August, when the harvest got under way, it was obvious the crop would be bigger than usual," the News said in its leading article.

"It is now clear that it will be the biggest ever. Evaluations range from good to very good in most parts, to excellent in Kazakhstan and Siberia."

No Total

The report did not give the total yield. Nor did it mention official complaints of possible grain losses because of delay in harvesting.

It is known, however, that thousands of special laborers — one single force was reported to total 325,000 men and women — had been rushed to distressed areas to speed the harvest.

ISRAEL ORDERS FARM SURPLUS

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Agriculture Department announced the signing of the agreement with Israel to finance the sale of $10,700,000 worth of surplus U. S. farm commodities.

The agreement provides for the sale of $4,700,000 worth of wheat, $2,000,000 worth of feed grains, $1,700,000 worth of butter, $800,000 worth of cheese and $100,000 worth of inedible tallow. The agreement also covers ocean transportation estimated at $1,400,000.

The agreement brings the total value of U. S. surplus farm products sold to Israel to about 50 million dollars.

Pipe Thrown Through Windshield Hurts Man

Glade Huer of 2110 No. 27th suffered a cut hand Thursday night when someone threw a lead pipe through his car windshield when he stopped his car at 27th & Leighton, police said.

Huer was not hospitalized.

No Price Cuts Seen Next Year

WASHINGTON (P) — Fifty-four per cent of the businessmen attending the board of directors meeting of the National Sales Executives Thursday predicted their companies would raise prices in the next 12 months.

Another 42 per cent reported they expected prices to hold at present levels and 4 per cent said they would "follow the industry trend." None forecast price cuts.

Although only about 100 directors were sampled in the business outlook poll, NSE officials said they believed the results were representative of the association's membership of about 28,000.

Seventy-eight per cent said their companies expected to raise employee wages in the year ahead and 22 per cent expected present pay levels to be maintained.

NSE Chairman Tony Whan of the Pacific Outdoor Advertising Co., Los Angeles, said virtually every type of industry was represented in the survey.

Speaking of BEAUTY

HOW MANY times have you said "Next Monday, I'll start to diet!" Or "day after tomorrow." Why not today?

Of course it's easier to buy clothes for a good figure. And slender girls get more compliments. But doctors say slender folks live longer... feel lots better, too.

Diet shouldn't mean starving yourself. Choose your food with common sense and care. Your doctor can outline a sensible diet that keeps you feeling fine while fat melts away. Chances are he'll recommend a vitamin supplement too. (Don't ignore this — it's important to health.) Stick to the diet he prescribes. Never say "This little extra bite won't hurt."

Recently I heard homemakers who "nibble" as they prepare meals or put food away gain at least two excess ounces a day. Two ounces each day for one year add up to forty-five pounds of unnecessary weight!

Usually diet should be combined with exercise to tone and "tighten" your body. But consult your doctor before beginning strenuous bending and stretching. He'll tell which exercises are right for your physical condition.

NEW FIGURES are more fun with new hairstyles! Your coiffure style can actually make you look taller, slimmer, younger. For instance, square jaws take on pretty oval lines when hair goes up at the temples, rather than back. Let's get together and discuss your problems soon!

Many a lady has found gleaming hair keeps eyes from straying to the hips! Brush your hair often. (A good setting won't come out!) Use a bit of hair dressing daily if your tresses tend to be dry. Stubby ends of oily hair need dressing, too, to keep them neat.

From under the dryer: God created man first to give him time to think up answers to all the questions woman asks.

Dulles telephoned the President at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa., to tell him of the Bulganin letter. The White House said the message had only received a "quick reading" at the time Mr. Eisenhower was notified of its receipt.

"In a Day or Two"

Zaroubin promised news that contents of the new letter would be made public "in a day or two" and refused flatly to go any further.

He said only that the letter did not deal with the Suez Canal crisis and that "it is the answer of Mr. Bulganin to the President of the United States' letter of Aug. 4."

In that letter, Eisenhower called for a "new spirit" to settle U.S.-Russian differences.

The Eisenhower-Bulganin correspondence has been going on since the Big Four summit meeting at Geneva more than a year ago.

Some Praise Offered

Eisenhower, in his communication to the Soviet premier on Aug. 4, praised the efforts being made in Russia to "eradicate some of the evils" of Stalinism.

Then he urged the Kremlin to show the same spirit in erasing the wrongs that had been done under the late dictator in the international field as well.

The President also called on the Soviets again to agree to a system of effective inspection and control for disarmament, such as his "open skies" exchange of military blueprints.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Locks To Remain

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Don't worry, folks. Barring a catastrophe, the famed Soo locks will still be here next time you drive by. That's the reply of the Chamber of Commerce in response to a letter from Philadelphia saying there's a rumor that the locks are to be replaced by a bridge. There is a proposal to build a tunnel or a bridge connecting this city with its Canadian neighbor of the same name. But bridge or tunnel, the locks are going to stay.

At that time we figured Sam suspected Congress was going Republican. Kefauver had milked television so often the Senate was seated on three-legged stools.

That weapon in the hands of a Republican administration would be as deadly as a Borgia recipe for mushrooms under glass.

But we should do something about it. There should be an investigation to discover why there is no investigation.

There for a while we thought the committees would go in for summer stock.

We like to read about and look at the political conventions. Why don't we get a full children's hour of law-making?

Ward Moves To Semifinals

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—Champion Harvie Ward Jr., of San Francisco, pin-pointed his shots in the teeth of gusty, 25 m.p.h. winds Thursday to gain the semifinal round of the National Amateur Golf Tournament with a cock-sure collegian and a tough threat from Canada.

The other winners in a double round of eliminations over the Knollwood Club course were Joe Campbell, a flaxen-haired, all-around athlete from Purdue University, Ward's foe Friday, Charles (Chuck) Kociss, a 43-year-old veteran from Royal Oak, Mich., playing in his 14th National, and Canada's surprising Gerald Magee of Toronto.

Magee and Kociss tee off first Friday in the 36-hole semifinals, scheduled at 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m., EST, followed by the now heavily favored Ward and Campbell, 20 minutes later.

Pen Team Gets Revenge

The Nebraska Penitentiary Pirates avenged an earlier loss by blanking College View in a softball game here Thursday, 5-0.

The penitentiary teams close their season play Saturday when the Pirates entertain Watkins Oil Co. of Omaha, the regional winners in a recent tournament at St. Louis, Mo., in a softball game and the Dorm Chiefs host Council Bluffs in a baseball match.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Back before the turn of the century — 1896, to be exact — a group of students at Nebraska Wesleyan University started kicking a football around and the first Plainsman team came into being.

But the faculty at the Methodist school didn't take too kindly to the boys going in for such a rough-house pastime. It just wasn't cricket, not in keeping with the true college spirit. After three games (Lincoln High lost, 18-0; Nebraska won, 18-8; and Worthington was defeated, 40-0) the professors called a halt.

Not until 1908 were Wesleyan students again allowed to play football and then the faculty made sure that athletics were secondary to the prime purpose of the school—learning.

Students were required to have an average of 85 per cent in all studies to be eligible to participate in sports.

Saturday night the Plainsmen open their 49th football season at O. N. Magee Memorial Stadium, and now as in the early days the emphasis at NWU is on scholarship, not athletics.

Wesleyan football players don't receive a penny in aid for their efforts.

Oddly enough, yet understandable, it's this factor that lends a note of optimism to the Wesleyan prospects this fall.

Head Coach Kieth Skogman, the 17th coach in NWU's long history, puts it this way:

"Despite the fact that we can't help a boy financially, the spirit and determination of this year's team is tremendous.

"Not one member of the squad has missed a single practice since fall camp opened. Even the boys who were hurt attended practice and hobbled around with the squad.

"This fine spirit should help us a lot."

Skogman, in his third year at the Wesleyan helm, feels the prospects this year are the best of his tenure. He cites the will to excel, plus more depth, greater speed and mobility as the main reasons for optimism.

Wesleyan has finished sixth in the eight-team Nebraska College Conference the past two autumns, but 1955 is being counted on as the year for the move up.

"I don't think we're a contender for the crown this fall," Skogman says. "But there is every indication that we are in a good position to advance into the first division if we get some bounces we missed last year."

the same opening foes of a year ago.

Tonight's schedule sees Northeast, Southeast and Pius X in action while Saturday's slate shows Lincoln High journeying to Omaha Central.

Northeast, which will be engaged in a home opener with Nebraska City at O. N. Magee Memorial Stadium, is hoping for at least a repeat performance of last year when they trounced the Pioneers, 32-6.

Southeast, which won its final two games in last year's initial grid campaign after losing the first six, hopes for a better showing against the powerful Fremont eleven, winners of last year's inaugural, 19-0. The Knights still remain the definite underdog in this action to be viewed at the Lincoln Public Schools Oval.

Pius X, the new Catholic school which replaced Lincoln Cathedral, hopes to get its first football season started in the win column at Syracuse — the team which handed Cathedral its only setback, a 14-6 verdict, a year ago.

The Red and Black of Lincoln High will get a chance to avenge their opening game setback of last season when they face Omaha Central at Omaha Benson field Saturday night. Central edged the Links a year ago, 21-20.

The Northeast-Nebraska City and the Southeast-Fremont contests will begin at 7:30 p.m., a new starting time for local high school home football games this season.

Win 3-2 In 13th, 4-3 In 12th—

Braves Widen NL Margin; Sweep Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves surged two full games in front of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers with a pair of extra-inning wins over the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday night.

Braves' bases-loaded sacrifice fly helped left-hander Warren Spahn gain his 200th major league victory.

In winning the nightcap, Spahn became the fourth active major league hurler to hold a 200-victory record. The others are Early Wynn, Bob Feller and Bob Lemon, all of the Cleveland Indians.

Paul Derringer of the St. Louis Cardinals pitched a no-hitter in the first game of the doubleheader.

In the first game, Spahn pitched a complete game, allowing only one run in the 13th inning.

Leftfielder Bobby Thomson made a brace of game-saving throws, the first of which won him a reprieve from the $100 fine imposed by Manager Fred Haney after Thomson tried to steal home against Brooklyn last Wednesday.

The nightcap was a wild and woolly affair with Philadelphia Manager Mayo Smith ejected when he protested bitterly Umpire Art Gore's call on Thomson's second tremendous throw, a heave that nipped Richie Ashburn at the plate.

Philadelphia's 12-inning nightcap 4-3 and a booming Aaron triple won the 13-inning opener 3-2.

1955 Leaders Face Tough Tests; Prep-South Battle Headlines Slate

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

The 1955 Nebraska high school football season opens tonight with some games that may be of championship importance by the time the season ends in November.

The Star's 1955 prep leaders will be on the spot in opening games.

The big question is: Who will be the team to beat in Class A?

Creighton Prep dominated the large-school field in 1955 and hasn't been defeated in 29 straight games. The Bluejays ended their '55 season with a 7-7 tie with Boys Town, not a factor in state ratings.

Prep opens against Omaha South and the long Jay streak could end if Cletus Fischer, in his second year as South coach, can put together a successful combination from the remnants of last year's seventh-ranked team.

The perennial toughies in Class A along with Prep are Lincoln High and Grand Island. Both may have claims to the title.

Lincoln last ruled the roost in 1954. Grand Island reigned supreme in 1953.

The Links made their debut under new Coach Ed Schwartzkopf Saturday night against Omaha Central at Benson Field. Central was a spoiler for the Links last year and in 1953, and made the score close in 1952.

The Links have good size, not much depth and their stand-by single wing attack, with letterman Don Davis likely to be the featured performer at tailback.

Grand Island's opening game is with Omaha Westside, unbeaten in 1955 but unranked because of a weak Class A schedule.

Other key Class A games send Omaha Tech against Omaha Benson Friday night; Northeast against Nebraska City; Beatrice against Falls City; Fairbury against Hastings and Kearney against North Platte.

Last year's Class B leader, Ord, must mend its fences or lose the kingly spot in 1956. Graduation took some top Chanticleer grid-ders. Ord opens at Holdrege.

Two of The Star's top-rated Class B teams of 1955, Cozad (2nd) and Bellevue (3th) clash tonight in a headline attraction at Cozad. Bellevue has several lettermen including All-State guard Gail Beckstead.

Some other Class B clubs feel this may be their year.

Valentine has a raft of veterans back — including speedy Bill Lamoureux — and Coach Randy Smith's club may give Norfolk a rough time in the opener tonight.

Valentine made it close last year.

Pius X, formerly Lincoln Cathedral and already dubbed "Pi-High" by the students, figures to be tough in the southeast Nebraska area.

Pius X takes on Syracuse, the only team to beat Cathedral in 1955. A Pius X backfield headed by George Easley and Joe Neal will be hard to stop.

In Class C, Grant must be rated the early standout in an otherwise wide-open field. Under Coach Ed Haeflner, who took the Grant reins when some of his 1956 players were still in diapers, Grant breezed through its 1955 schedule.

Grant's opener may end that win streak, however. Grant opens at Ogallala, burning for revenge after a 46-12 licking by Grant last year and blessed with several veterans led by quarterback Nelson Hinkle.

Exeter was The Star's 1955 eighth-man football champ and of all the top-rated teams seems the most likely to repeat.

Coach Ken Kasperek lost a handful of regulars but has a sound nucleus to build around, including all-state end Vernon Thomsen.

The chief threat to Exeter's repeated domination is the entrance of Mike Iseman who will be hard to stop.

Omaha Tech over Omaha Benson—Trojans still have some of that '55 beef.

Kearney over North Platte—Kearney could click this year.

Beatrice over Falls City—This is a big one in the Twin Rivers Conference.

Hastings over Fairbury—Joe Hill set for big year at Hastings.

Pius X over Syracuse—Coach Vince Aldrich's crew familiar with single wing now.

Others:

Bellevue over Cozad, Omaha Holy Name over Grand Island St. Mary's, Ord over the schedule:

Mantle Finally Hits No. 48; Yanks Win, 3-2

KANSAS CITY (U.S.P.)—Whitey Ford stubbornly fought off the Kansas City Athletics in the late innings Thursday to win his 18th victory for the New York Yankees, 3-2, as Mickey Mantle hit home run No. 48—his first since Aug. 31.

Mickey also hit a double in the first inning behind Enos Slaughter's single and rode home on Yogi Berra's single that got the New Yorkers away to a 2-0 lead off loser Tom Gorman. The homer came in his next time at bat in the third and ended the Yankee scoring. Bobby Shantz and Jack Crimian handcuffed the New York power hitters the rest of the way.

Ford, who equalled his victory production for his best year, 1953, got the first 11 Athletics before Lou Skizas doubled in the fourth.

Hits by Vic Power and Hec Lopez, plus a base on balls to Skizas cost Ford a run in the sixth and Suitecase Simpson hit into a run-scoring double play.

KNOW YOUR GOLF

Having troubles with your short irons and chip shots? Perhaps you're hitting behind, or topping, or scooping those short approaches, altho you believe you're doing everything right. Chances are you're letting the club head get ahead of the hands at the bottom of the swing. By all means, have your left hand and arm and club shaft in a line when the ball is hit. And for those pitches keep your weight heavier on your left foot, take an open stance with the feet fairly close together, and play the ball in a line off your left heel. Let your shoulders work freely, and have the back of your left hand moving at right angles to the line of flight when the ball is hit.

Havelock High Reunion Sept. 23 At Jefferson, Ia.

The first Havelock High School all-sports reunion since that school became part of Northeast will be held Sunday, Sept. 23 at Jefferson, Ia.

Charles H. Gately of Jefferson, former coach, will host the affair which is expected to attract a 15 to 20-caravan of former Havelock athletes.

The reunion is being held specifically for ex-Havelock players Gately and L. J. Tepley, but all former Havelock players are invited.

Cecil, Lewis To Co-Captain Wesleyan Club

Two Lincoln seniors on the Nebraska Wesleyan University football squad have been appointed co-captains for the Plainsmen as they open their 1956 season against Morningside College at Wesleyan Saturday night.

They are Bob Cecil, who will start at right end, and Dick Lewis, who will start at left halfback.

Both men are 23-year-old veterans of Plainsmen squads. Lewis

Bob Cecil Dick Lewis

is going after his fourth football letter and Cecil after his third.

Meanwhile Coach Kiehl Skogman is sending his 50 charges through tapering-off exercises after a tough two-day workout schedule that lasted through Wednesday.

Wesleyan will be out to reverse a 39-7 defeat administered to them last year by the big Maroons of Morningside.

Former Iowa State Gridder Now 'Joe Smith' Of Peru Football Team

Lincoln Star Special
PERU — The Peru State College football squad has a Joe Smith, too!

Since his arrival on the Peru State campus for pre-school football drills, Bruce Smith of Coin, Iowa, has been re-named "Joe" by his fellow team mates. The 6'5", 210-lb. transfer student from Iowa State lettered as a tackle at the Iowa school last year.

A 1952 graduate of Coin High School, Smith is making his presence known on the squad. In all likelihood he will be seeing action in Friday night's opener in the Oak Bowl at Peru against the Bears of Colorado State College of Education of Greeley.

During his high school career "Joe" lettered four years as an end and was named captain of the grid team. He played center and captained the basketball team for three years, and has three track letters.

Smith was born in Pawnee City.

Mantle Finally Hits No. 48; Yanks Win, 3-2

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Suitcase Simpson hit into a run-scoring double play. Whitey Ford stubbornly fought off the Kansas City Athletics in the late innings Thursday to win his 18th victory for the New York Yankees, 3-2, as Mickey Mantle hit home run No. 48—his first since Aug. 31.

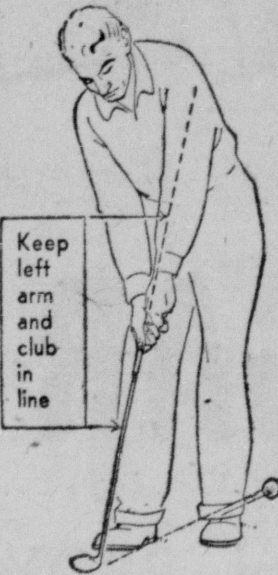

Mickey also hit a double in the first inning behind Enos Slaughter's single and rode home on Yogi Berra's single that got the New Yorkers away to a 2-0 lead off loser Tom Gorman. The homer came in his next time at bat in the third and ended the Yankee scoring. Bobby Shantz and Jack Crimian handcuffed the New York power hitters the rest of the way.

Ford, who equalled his victory production for his best year, 1953, got the first 11 Athletics before Lou Skizas doubled in the fourth.

Hits by Vic Power and Hec Lopez, plus a base on balls to Skizas cost Ford a run in the sixth and

KNOW YOUR GOLF

Having troubles with your short irons and chip shots? Perhaps you're hitting behind, or topping, or scooping those short approaches, or you believe you're doing everything right. Chances are you're letting the club head get ahead of the hands at the bottom of the swing. By all means, have your left hand and arm and club shaft in a line when the ball is hit. And for those pitches keep your weight heavier on your left foot, take an open stance with the feet fairly close together, and play the ball in a line off your left heel. Let your shoulders work freely, and have the back of your left hand moving at right angles to the line of flight when the ball is hit.

Havelock High Reunion Sept. 23 At Jefferson, Ia.

The first Havelock High School all-sports reunion since that school became part of Northeast will be held Sunday, Sept. 23 at Jefferson, Ia.

Charles H. Gatley of Jefferson, former coach, will host the affair which is expected to attract a 15 to 20-car caravan of former Havelock athletes.

The reunion is being held specifically for ex-Havelock players Gatley and L. J. Tepley, but all former Havelock players are invited.

Cecil, Lewis To Co-Captain Wesleyan Club

Two Lincoln seniors on the Nebraska Wesleyan University football squad have been appointed co-captains for the Plainsmen as they open their 1956 season against Morningside College at Wesleyan Saturday night.

They are Bob Cecil, who will start at right end, and Dick Lewis, who will start at left halfback.

Both men are 23-year-old veterans of Plainsmen squads. Lewis

Bob Cecil Dick Lewis

is going after his fourth football letter and Cecil after his third.

Meanwhile Coach Kieth Skogman is sending his 56 charges through tapering-off exercises after a tough two-day workout schedule that lasted through Wednesday.

Wesleyan will be out to reverse a 39-7 defeat administered to them last year by the big Maroons of Morningside.

Former Iowa State Gridder Now 'Joe Smith' Of Peru Football Team

Lincoln Star Special

PERU — The Peru State College football squad has a Joe Smith, too!

Since his arrival on the Peru State campus for pre-school football drills, Bruce Smith of Coin, Iowa, has been re-named "Joe" by his fellow team mates. The 6'5" 210-lb. transfer student from Iowa State lettered as a tackle at the Iowa school last year.

A 1952 graduate of Coin High School, Smith is making his presence known on the squad. In all likelihood he will be seeing action in Friday night's opener in the Oak Bowl at Peru against the Bears of Colorado State College of Education of Greeley.

During his high school career "Joe" lettered four years as an end and was named captain of the grid team. He played center and captained the basketball team for three years, and has three track letters.

Smith was born in Pawnee City.

ANTI-TON-MILE GROUP NAMES HOLMAN

Nate C. Holman of Lincoln has been appointed general counsel and secretary of the newly formed Nebraska Producers & Consumers Committee, an organization which opposes the ton-mile tax in Nebraska. George A. Spidel, president, announced Thursday.

Holman, accepting the appointment, said, "As a citizen interested in the welfare of the state I am desirous of lending my efforts to informing the people of the reasons why 11 states have repealed the ton-mile tax after trial."

"I am happy to work with the farm organizations, businessmen and common people who comprise the Producers & Consumers Committee in their efforts to defeat the ton-mile tax," he said.

Holman has served as president of the Junior Bar Section of the Nebraska State Bar Association and as an officer of the Lincoln Bar Association.

Holman was named in 1932 as Lincoln's Outstanding Young Man by the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce and as Nebraska's Outstanding Young Man in 1933 by the Nebraska State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the Public Housing Authority of Lincoln, chairman of the Nebraska State Selective Service Board of Appeal and a member of the executive committee of the University of Nebraska Alumni Association.

Praising Holman and enumerating his achievements, Spidel added that the committee believed it necessary to call upon legal counsel for "the important responsibility because there are many important legal questions before the committee."

Mrs. Olga Lyons Dies At Age 62

Mrs. Olga Florence Lyons, 62, of Lincoln, died Thursday.

Surviving are one son, Ronald R. Lyons of Phoenix, Ariz.; sisters, Mrs. E. W. Dove of Cairo, Neb., and Mrs. Steven Brown of Jacksonville, Fla.; brother, Cecil Miller of Cairo, Neb.; one half sister, son-in-law, Dr. Quentin Quay of Lincoln; and four grandchildren.

Student Receives Head Laceration In Crash

Marshall R. Nelson, 21, of 1425 R, was treated for a head cut at the University of Nebraska Student Health Center and released after being injured in an accident early Thursday morning on 17th between O and P.

Police said Nelson lost control of the car he was driving on 17th and it hit a parked car owned by Marjorie Klataske of Greenleaf, Kan.

NFO Plans Davey Meeting Monday; Expect 75 To 100

The National Farm Organization of Lancaster County plans to hold its next meeting at the Town Hall in Davey Monday evening at 7 p.m., according to Albert Francke, president of the group.

Francke, the largest attendance of any NFO meeting held thus far in this area is expected, with from 75 to 100 attending. He attributed this to "interest in the ideas of the NFO."

Special speaker for the meeting will be Dick Holmbeck, of Barneston, state director of the NFO. He is scheduled to speak about the "activities and progress of the NFO on both the state and national level."

Following will be a discussion on the current farm question led by Frank Reed, of Lincoln, former state director of the Production and Marketing Administration, and Ralph Hanks, of Cass County, a former State PMA committeeman.

Francke said the meeting is open to all members, their wives, and any interested farmers.

Recommendation For Auditorium Manager Due Soon

Mayor Bennett Martin has been advised that the city's Auditorium Advisory Committee expects to make a recommendation within three weeks for the hiring of an auditorium manager.

Committee Vice Chairman Dick Chapin said the group has a number of candidates to interview for the job and would complete that work within three weeks.

It was also pointed out that Benjamin C. Moore, the city's auditorium consultant from Spokane, Wash., has stated he is not interested in the Lincoln management job. Moore is manager of the Spokane auditorium.

DELAPlane's POSTCARD

In a good deal of harney back and forth with the bankers, I procured a slender loaned on a small property. On this I erected a house and settled down to a life of contemplation of the subject and I did not mind.

I should report that I was not worried but that I was.

A house has no more interest in selling down than a blue-jay. Even less. For the day around here there is a certain change with the season. Soon as something as the day of the week as a "week" season. Something really good.

A house of the other hand "sells" all angles and things. With a month you are fighting for time to keep it from falling to ruin and ruin.

I bought a vine—I think it is a Virginia creeper, though frankly I don't care at this point. I bought it on a sale for $1.00 at the nursery. All my neighbors envied me my good luck. There was a while my $1.00 amounted to about $1.00 worth.

I climbed the house like a cat and sat on the roof.

That was the problem. At the second story it stopped to catch its breath. And mine then it has been climbing down again.

I am informed that this vine needs continual hoisting. Like getting a small boy over a fence.

The vine has to be hoisted up," said the nurseryman. "Keep hoisting it up as it climbs."

Now it so happens that I did not equip the outside of my house with Jacob's ladders. Not figuring I was building an ark but rather a residence for decades years.

"How would you go about hoisting it up?" I said politely.

"Get a long ladder," said the nurseryman.

I went down and procured long ladders. Long ladders cost more per foot than screens on Broadway.

"Would you like to buy back the vine?" I said desperately.

"All sales are final," said the nurseryman. "By the way, use big nails."

This vine at present is grasping in all directions. But mostly downward. It gives no impression of a vine-covered cottage. But rather looks as though a whole clump of old greenery had been thrown out the window and hung up on a nail.

One straggling vine of it got into the storm gutter where a bird nested in it. The gutter is now clogged and can only be cured with a long ladder.

I could have joined the fire department and led the same kind of life. Go paid for it, too.

I should mention trees. I have put in several trees. Though I am fearful of what will happen when they grow up.

I had trees already. Madrones, live oaks, pines and redwood. These trees overhanging the house and gate it a shady, suburban air.

No sooner was the house built than these trees began to get little ailments. They shivered and cast off limbs and required constant attention of tree doctors. The closer ones faded entirely and now threaten to cast a ton or more of dead limbs through the roof.

"What can I do?" I said on the telephone.

"Well, said the tree man, "you get a long ladder—"

It is obvious that a man with a house should buy climbing irons and take trapeze lessons.

There is nothing that happens to this house that is within reach. I spend hours hanging out the window trying to lasso vines, birds' nest, stray limbs and other natural bric-a-brac. It is a precarious life.

This is the way an innocent housing project worked out for me. A future on a long, long ladder, nailing up a long, long vine.

Creep back to Virginia, you creeper.

Newspapers To Observe Their 'Week' . . . Carriers, Too

Most of the 272 weekly and daily newspapers in Nebraska are planning open houses or other special activities during National Newspaper Week, according to Vern Scofield, manager of the Nebraska Press Association.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson Thursday officially designated Oct. 1 to 8 as National Newspaper Week and called attention to "Newspaperboy Day" Oct. 6.

The nationwide observance is sponsored by Newspaper Association Managers, national organization of state, regional and national press association managers.

State Had Winners

Last year a Nebraska weekly, the Sherman County Times at Loup City, won honorable mention in the nation for its observance of the week.

The Ord Quiz, another Nebraska weekly, won first place in the nation three years ago.

Ordinance No. 6465

AN ORDINANCE amending Section 302 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, and Section 2107 of said Ordinance No. 5636, as amended by Ordinance No. 5790, passed July 26, 1954, relating to zoning; and repealing said Section 302 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, and Section 2107 of said Ordinance No. 5636, as amended by Ordinance No. 5790, passed July 26, 1954, as heretofore existing.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 302 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 302. The boundaries of the districts are shown upon the maps which are attached hereto and made a part of this Ordinance, which maps are designated as the City of Lincoln District Map and the City of Lincoln and Environs District Map."

That part of the map designating the different districts and the boundaries and that part of the legend designating the symbol for each district are a part of this Ordinance and have the same force and effect as if the district maps and that part of the legend referred to above were all fully set forth herein. Other notations and references are for information only."

Section 2. That Section 2107 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, as amended by Ordinance No. 5790, passed July 26, 1954, be and it hereby is amended to read as follows:

"Section 2107. No fence shall be erected to a height to exceed six (6) feet, and no fence shall be erected within thirty (30) feet of the intersection of the property lines on two intersecting streets, except that an open wire fence not to exceed four (4) feet in height may be erected within thirty (30) feet of the property lines of two intersecting streets when in the opinion of the Building Inspector the erection of the same will not result in a hazard to the lawful use of the said streets. This section shall not apply to fences required for certain uses in Article XVI or deemed desirable for uses permitted in Article XXII, nor be construed to require fences to set back a greater distance from the street line than a building is required to set back."

Section 3. That Section 302 of Ordinance No. 5636, passed November 2, 1953, and Section 2107 of said Ordinance No. 5636, as amended by Ordinance No. 5790, passed July 26, 1954, as heretofore existing, be and they are hereby repealed.

Section 4. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

Introduced by Pat Ash.

Passed: September 10, 1956.

Inmate Who Left With Laundry Pleads Not Guilty To Escape

The Nebraska Penitentiary's "laundry bundle" escapee, Thomas D. Mathes, 32, pleaded innocent to prison escape and auto theft charges Thursday when arraigned in Lancaster County Court.

Mathes also waived preliminary hearing before Judge Herbert A. Ronin, but said he would request the District Court for a hearing before the Board of Mental Health and for appointment of legal counsel.

The Pawhuska, Okla., man also waived preliminary hearing, which was pending at the time of his escape, on a fraudulent check charge.

Mathes had pleaded innocent Aug. 14 to a charge of issuing a $33.75 no-account check, which had been pending since Oct. 25, 1954. Preliminary hearing was to have been Sept. 1.

Bound Over

Mathes was bound over to District Court for trial on the three charges.

Mathes was captured at gunpoint at Bartlesville, Okla., two days after he made his desperate bid for freedom Aug. 28, by concealing himself in a Nebraska prison laundry truck which later stopped at the State Hospital.

While some 40 Penitentiary guards and other officers sought Mathes in a foot-by-foot search of the area, the inmate apparently took a car from the hospital's parking lot.

Near Police Station

The car was later found abandoned at Wichita, Kan., about a

Ordinance No. 6461

An Ordinance creating Water District No. 437, providing for the payments of the costs of the improvements therein, designating the property to be benefited, and repealing all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska:

Section 1. That Water District No. 437 be and the same is hereby created; that said water district is created for the purpose of constructing a water main or water mains to supply water for domestic and fire purposes, for the following described real estate, which is hereby included in said water district, to-wit: Lots 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16, Block 1; all of Blocks 2 and 3; South one-half of Lot 1; Lots 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12, Block 4; all of Blocks 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, Eastmont 2nd Addition, Lot 2 in Block 3 and Lots 2, 3, 4 and 5 in Block 4, Eastside Addition. The cost of constructing said water mains, including the cost of fire plugs, valves, and all other expenses incidental to said improvements, shall be assessed against the property benefited in said district, not exceeding the special benefits accruing on account thereof.

Sec. 2. That all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, be and the same hereby are repealed.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication according to law.

ESCAPE NETS REFORMATORY INMATES TRIP TO PEN

Two Nebraska Reformatory escapees, who requested immediate sentencing to the Penitentiary, were given concurrent 18-month terms for escape and auto theft.

Hubert Adkins, 26, Nebraska City and Charles Nolan Meacham, 30, Omaha, pleaded guilty to the two-count charge Thursday before Lancaster District Judge Paul White.

The pair escaped from a Reformatory work detail Aug. 16 in a Reformatory truck, which was later found abandoned near Nebraska City.

Sister's Home

The two escapees were apprehended two days later at the Union, Mo., home of a sister of one of the men.

The escape and auto theft terms were pronounced to run consecutively to the defendants' present terms.

Adkins is serving a one to two-year term for non-support given Nov. 18, 1955, from Sarpy County. Meacham is serving an identical term for forgery, given Sept. 28, 1955, from Douglas County.
